OTTAWA MONEY NOT IN EVIDENCE

Statement Made by Finance Minister Somewhat Mystifies Manitobans

TEN MILLIONS IN GOLD

Bankers and Railway Men Agree That Funds Would Be Very Helpful

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—If any part of the $10,000,000 in gold which Hon. W. S. Fielding says he has turned loose for the relief of the western situation has left Ottawa, managers of local banks have not been taken into the minister's confidence as to just what disposition has been made of the cash. In spite of the assertion of the Ottawa government organ today that some of the local bankers received dispatches yesterday from the east informing them "that arrangements had been made by which assistance in moving the crop would be forthcoming" no banker could be found in Winnipeg today who would admit such knowledge. In fact, of thirteen communicated with each specifically denied knowledge of the transaction or preparation to supply funds by the government.

The mystery seemed to interest some of them, but the general sentiment was that if Mr. Fielding had made any such arrangements it was handled in confidence and not through the channels by which currency usually reaches the public.

General Freight Agent Lanigan, of the C.P.R., was seen and asked what effect the money would have on the railway, provided it was sent to the west at once.

"Anything the government can do to assist the farmers will help us also," replied Mr. Lanigan. "We are just like the farmer's horse, when times are good the horse is well fed but when there is not such a plentiful harvest the horse has to do with a little less. That is just the way with the railways. Now, if the money comes, and as yet I have heard nothing definite, the present situation will be greatly relieved. You see, the way wheat is moving now, one car is doing what three cars did last year. Not that it is carrying as much grain, but the elevator men are not buying the wheat. They only buy enough to fill the cars. They are not filling up the twenty million bushel capacity there is in the elevators in the west."

Money loaned by the government would open up a market equivalent to the capacity of the elevators of the west. The elevator men would then be able to buy more grain to fill the elevators, and the railways would be kept busy hauling out the wheat to Port Arthur until the time lake traffic closes. You see, if the wheat was shipped to Port Arthur the elevators would soon fill up when the port was closed, and then what would you do with the wheat?"

"It would be a splendid thing if the government would get money out to the banks in the west," said H. D. Ewart, of the Zenith Grain Co.

"We do not know yet whether they will do it, but it would help things out and make the money market easier and thus wheat would be much more free. It takes a good margin of profit to finance a shipment to the old country, for it takes about thirty days. That is where it would help the exporter."

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Evidence for the defence was continued today in the trial of the Buckingham strikers. Several witnesses gave evidence to show that the detectives fired first and that shooting became general.

OUTLETS FOR WHEAT

Inferior Grades May Be Sent to Old Country for Use in Some of the Industries

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, in communication with Mr. Whyte, second vice president, said he expected to be able to supply Winnipeg in a few days with fifteen or eighteen additional locomotives.

While in Montreal, C. C. Castle, warehouse commissioner, induced a number of the large exporting houses to enable their agents in London, Liverpool and Glasgow to ascertain the volume of commercial grades of wheat that could be assimilated each week at these ports. A reply from a Liverpool correspondent, Mr. Miller, was to the effect that he could use from three to four thousand quarters (24,000 to 32,000 bushels) per week of very low grade wheat to grind into flour which is used for sizing and glazing purposes chiefly in the cotton trade.

Both the Ogilvie and Lake of the Woods companies communicated with their agents in the United Kingdom markets to try and work up an additional trade in commercial grades, and each of these companies assured Mr. Castle that they would use as much as possible of their resources during the coming winter in handling these grades for export. The managers of the companies pointed out that the handling of inferior wheat was entirely outside their usual business, but under the present circumstances they were prepared to do so.

NEW C.P.R. TARIFFS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Rates to Become Effective on November 25 and December 1

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—When asked for particulars in regard to the new freight rates today, F. W. Peters, assistant freight traffic manager of the C. P. R., said he preferred not going into detailed figures at present. The new tariffs, of which there are some twelve or sixteen, being distributed to the different agents and to the public, and were filed with the railway commission. A number of them are effective on November 25, and the balance on December 1, it being difficult to get them all effective on the same day.

The publication of these new tariffs is a result, partly, of the decision of the railway commission, he claims, on what is known as the "Vancouver complaint" and of the decision of the board in what is known as the "Portage la Prairie complaint."

The judgment in regard to the latter called upon the railway companies to cancel what are called their present "traders' tariffs" and substitute tariffs eliminating all feature of discrimination.

"We believe," said Mr. Peters, "that we have, after months of careful consideration and hard work, accomplished the desire of eliminating all discrimination features and establishing a fair and uniform scale of rates from all distributing centres."

THE PEABODY FUND

Board of Governors Arranges to Build More Cottages for Poor of London

London, Nov. 15.—In the absence of the Duke of Devonshire, the regular chairman of the board of governors of the Peabody fund, Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, presided at the meeting yesterday, in accordance with a suggestion of the Duke of Devonshire. Waldorf Astor, Jr., was elected to fill a vacancy in the board of governors, and contracts were approved for the erection of four cottages on the Horne Hill estate, to be completed in October, 1908. The board also authorized the purchase of eight blocks of land now covered with slum cottages at Bethnal Green, with the money, $150,000, derived from the first outside bequest to the fund, which was left by a daughter of the late Henry Fox, and which is now available. The Peabody fund, for the improvement of the condition of the poor of London, was founded by the late Geo. Peabody, the American merchant and banker, who was born at South Danvers, Mass., in 1795, who died in London in 1869, and whose body was taken to the United States on a British warship and buried in his native town, now called Peabody. The fund, originally $200,000, has been used for building lodging houses for the London poor.

FURTHER DISPLAY OF FRIENDSHIP

Emperor William Steadily Cultivating More Kindly Feeling in England

ACCEPTS OXFORD DEGREE

In Address of Acceptance, Speaks Well of Rhodes Scholarships

Windsor, Eng., Nov. 15.—Emperor William is continuing his work toward the creation of friendly feelings on the part of Englishmen toward Germany, and it is now seen that this purpose is the object of his visit to this country.

His Majesty took advantage of another opportunity today, when accepting the degree of doctor of laws from Oxford University, which was conferred upon him by a delegation of the university, headed by Lord Curzon, chancellor of the institution. The German Emperor, in his address, expressed his admiration of the Rhodes scholarship system, which he said had helped to create an atmosphere of mutual respect and friendship between the two countries.

Lord Curzon, in presenting the degree, in a gold box, spoke as follows: "We are seeking to connect with our ancient and historic university an enthusiastic lover of the sciences and patron of the arts, who in a reign now happily beginning to be long, has appreciably raised the standard of duty and patriotism both among his own people and the nations of Europe."

Another gorgeous state banquet was tendered the Emperor at Windsor Castle tonight.

Juvenile Depravity

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—The worst case of juvenile criminality to have come to the attention of the police was up in the police court today. The prisoner, J. E. Eichen, a Burrows and S. Greenfield, three boys, too small to see over the rail of the prisoners' dock, were charged with the theft of $60 from S. Warthen in the postoffice yesterday. The evidence given at the trial showed that these boys, although they are all under 13 years old, have gone about as far in crime as many men who are today serving sentences. The three have been before the court on previous occasions, being charged with theft. The boys were remanded until tomorrow.

STOCKS BOUGHT UP FOR INVESTMENT

Many People of Moderate Means Take Advantage of Low Prices

New York, Nov. 15.—Never in Wall street's history has there been such a purchase of securities by investors in ordered lots. The transfer books of railroad and industrial corporations today show a record-breaking number of new shareholders taking advantage of the prices of standard securities. Hordes of investors have come into the field with their savings and purchased in unprecedented quantities. The N.Y. C. railway and several others report that the number of their stockholders, as shown on the books, have nearly doubled in the last year. Transfer departments of all corporations are working day and night to keep up with their work.

The extensive assimilation of stocks and their wide distribution to people of moderate means foretells certain relief of the monetary situation for brokers.

Officials of all railroads and industrial companies say that for several weeks there has been a rapid and constant absorption of their securities by small investors, and before the buying movement is concluded it is predicted that the numbers of shareholders in many companies will be doubled.

Secretary Trimble, of the Steel Corporation, said today that the department was behind in its work because of the enormous buying of ordered lots. James L. Carter, in charge of the transfer department of J. P. Morgan & Co., said today that the purchase of small lots of stocks which was still being kept up in great volume, was breaking all records.

TRAIN MEN KILLED

C. P. R. Express and Light Engine Crash Together, Causing Death of Seven Men

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The Sault express, No. 3, on the C.P.R., coming east was in collision with a light engine near Chalk River early this morning. Seven men of the train and engine crews were killed, and a number of people sustained slight injuries. The dead are:

J. IRVINE, baggage man, Ottawa, cremated.

D. CLARK, express messenger, Montreal.

J. E. YOUNG, engineer, North Bay. H. I. PRENDERGAST, brakeman, Webbwood.

T. PRENDERGAST, father of H. I. Prendergast, Webbwood.

J. HENDRIE, engineer, North Bay. J. O. NADEAU, fireman, North Bay.

They were in the baggage car of the Soo express. Prendergast Jr. had been injured in a railway accident and was going to the hospital.

The cause is attributed to the light engine not keeping clear of the express, as the engineer should have done.

Engineer Hendrie and Fireman Nadeau, of the light engine, were both killed.

Fireman Prendergast was on his way to Montreal to the hospital, and his father was accompanying him.

They were in the baggage car of the Soo express. Prendergast Jr. had been injured in a railway accident and was going to the hospital.

None of the passengers were seriously injured.

MANY IMMIGRANTS BROUGHT BY ARMY

Vigorous Campaign Goes On—First Batch Comes to This Province

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The Salvation Army is inaugurating a gigantic immigration campaign, for which ten ocean liners have been already chartered. The first batch, numbering one thousand, leave Liverpool on the special steamer Kensington, of the Dominion line, and are to be taken on arrival at Halifax direct to British Columbia in special trains in charge of special army officers. This consignment is being sent to British Columbia on account of the winter weather making it inadvisable to place them in Ontario or the northwest. Later shipments will be distributed on farm lands in Ontario and the sister provinces. The motto of the Army is to put them on the land, efforts being made to secure a class of people fit for farming operations. The first consignment consists largely of Scottish people and includes a large sprinkling of domestic servants.

London, Nov. 15.—Officials of the Salvation Army immigration department confirm the announcement of the Shipping Gazette that a Salvation Army navy is projected. Mr. Lamb, chief of the department, says General Booth has long looked forward to the army owning its whole immigration machinery. The steady flow of emigration under Salvation Army auspices would already make the maintenance of at least one steamer profitable, and there would be no hesitation in increasing the fleet as traffic increased. One of the chief features of the scheme is that every ship will be manned throughout by members of the army.

INDIAN SCHOOLS DEAL OUT DEATH

Startling Rate of Mortality is Shown in Report to the Department

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT

Dr. Bryce Shows That Conditions Are Such as to Encourage Disease

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—Not too favorable a report on the health conditions prevailing in the Indian industrial and boarding schools of the Dominion is that just issued by Dr. P. H. Bryce in his capacity as chief medical officer of the department of Indian affairs. Taken in conjunction with the fact that the religious denominations in charge of Indian education have asked the government within the past month to take over control of the schools to a greater extent, the report is significant.

The Indian schools, as is generally known, are conducted by the Roman Catholic, Anglican, Presbyterian and Methodist denominations, who receive grants from the government to assist in carrying on the work. Attention having been drawn to a large number of deaths among the pupils, either while attending school or soon after leaving, Dr. Bryce was instructed to make a report on the subject. During the spring months, he visited all the schools with a few exceptions. He obtained a statistical statement of the past and present conditions of the health of children. A list of questions was left with each teacher, and from fifteen replies received some rather appalling deductions have been drawn. The report says that of the total of 1,537 pupils reported upon nearly 35 per cent are dead, and in one school with absolute accuracy the statement shows that 69 per cent of the ex-pupils are dead, and that everywhere the most insidious cause of death is given as tuberculosis.

"It is apparent," the report says, "that general ill health from continuous respiration of the air of increasing foulness is inevitable, but when sometimes consumptive pupils, and very frequently others will discharging scrofulous glands, are sent to add an infective quality to the atmosphere, we have created a situation so dangerous to health that I am often surprised that results were not more serious than they have been shown statistically to be."

Dr. Bryce remarks that conditions in a majority of schools are such as to demand an immediate remedy. In two or three schools there is a very noticeable absence of drill or manual exercise among boys or callisthenics or breathing exercises among young girls.

The report strange to say, does not contain any recommendations or suggestions as to what should be done to reduce this abnormal death rate among Indian pupils, although the statistics given and general conditions described, make it quite evident that vigorous action cannot be long delayed.

Betting at Woodbine Legal

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Betting on the Woodbine race track is legal and the bookies can in future carry on their operations without interference by the authorities. This is the effect of an unanimous judgment of the Court of Appeals today in the case of two bookmakers who had been fined by the police magistrate for keeping a common betting place on the Woodbine race track. It was claimed that betting anywhere within the grounds was keeping a common gambling house. The Court of Appeals upset this contention.

TITLED VISITOR IS A GREAT TRAVELER

Countess of St. Pierre Returns From Three Months' Tour of the North

The Comtesse de Meherenc de St. Pierre, St. Brice, France, is visiting Victoria. Perhaps her Celtic lineage—for St. Brice lies in Brittany that queer province of the republic, whose natives speak Gaelic and who cling to more of the old world and old-time customs than any of their fellow countrymen, has made of the countess a wanderer but anyway this titled lady has visited more out-of-the-way corners of the earth, more strange regions than any other save perhaps some stray half dozen of her sex.

She has just returned from a three months' journey, in the wilds of the Peace river country, and is now en route to Mexico, where she will spend some little time before returning to her home in Europe.

About middle height and of pleasing appearance, the countess does not look in the slightest degree mannish. She speaks English prettily with just enough of an accent to make it interesting, her descriptions are crisp, her expressions naive and she has an all-pervading sense of humor. Interviewed wherever she goes (a two-column one appeared in the Colonist on Tuesday last, wired from the mainland) she very obligingly set herself to think of something new.

"It was a long journey and at some times tiresome but it was not after all adventurous," she remarked. "We had one snowstorm and went without food for two days on one occasion but otherwise the journey was very expressive and signified nothing."

"But there were some strange things to be seen. What would you think of a great well of natural gas burning constantly for seven years? We saw it there at one of the portages on the Peace river. It had been encountered while boring for oil and the odor was so all pervading that they set it on fire. It has burned ever since and now illuminates an Indian village half a mile away."

"The riches of the country are wonderful. We passed through banks of asphalt in the Grande valley of the Athabaska. There is much oil there also. Two companies are exploiting it and are boring for oil now."

"At Fort McMurray the fathers at the mission showed me coal which they had found. Just two feet below the ground it lay."

"The countess was especially delighted with Athabaska lake and told of the beauty spot near an Indian village Chipewyan, where the countess reminded her strong resemblance to Cornwall—red granite washed by the waters of the lake. The queer phenomenon by which Lake Athabaska, when the river is low empties in the Peace river, and then via another stream into the Mackenzie, but when the river is high receives the waters of the Upper Peace was also remarked by her. North of the Lower Peace they saw the tracks of the last of the wild buffalo."

"It is strange that people know so little of this wonderful country, which is just seven days from civilization and seven days of a very comfortable journey. Conditions there are similar to those prevailing south of Calgary a few years ago. Large areas covered with buffalo grass afford pasture for cattle, and the chinook moderates the winter and permits the cattle to graze throughout the season."

A view on the Upper Peace river struck the countess as one of the most beautiful she had ever seen. From the highlands a view was obtained of the Upper Peace and the Smoke rivers, dotted with islands, and all green in the late summer.

"Not quite the most beautiful scene in the world, however," she qualified it. "That was in Ecuador, when from a mountain we could look down and see the snow-crowned peaks of seven extinct volcanoes."

The countess gave a drab account of that wonderful trip into Ecuador. "There were three of us. A German lady, another Frenchwoman and myself. We chose Ecuador because it was the least known of the South American republics, and it is pleasant to visit new places."

"There was just one railway eighty miles long—a most obliging railway. We saw the cocoa plants growing and, varying a specimen, the conductor stopped the train. Further on, a lady wished a drink of water, and again the train was stopped while the lady drank from a stream. That was why we were eight hours late on a run of seventy miles."

With her companions she crossed the Andes to Quito, the capital, and there they abode for seven or eight months. It was beautiful, having no mosquitoes, and of which occurred while they were there. After the first revolution they didn't mind it so much. "When the first broke out, there was a battle quite near the capital. We experienced the grand emotion for we heard the roar of the artillery and the sound of the rifles. We were sad for we thought of the brave men who were dying out there so near us. In that battle we learned later on, a mule was killed and two men wounded."

After that the countess and her companions managed to restrain their "emotions" when other battles were fought. By the time they returned to the coast, another railway had been constructed, and it was operated by Anglo-Saxons. They arrived at Guayaquil on time. The English speaking people rarely disabused the natives of the "manana" habit.

"They had frightened those poor natives with their hurry and bustle, and 'verily believe,' the countess remarked, 'that twenty English speaking men could have captured the whole republic.'"

The countess quite refused to say what she thought of Victoria.

"That is always the way. I have landed from the steamer just one hour ago, and you demand of me 'what I think of Victoria?' Time enough in two days' time."

The titled visitor purposes writing an article upon her trip to the Peace river. An article "Monuments Incaiques de l'Equateur," written by her appeared in a number of Le Cour du Monde some years ago.

The steamer Keenun of the Blue Funnel line, which arrived from the Sound yesterday, discharged boxes and machinery for the hydrographic steamer, Alexandra, and is taking on a large shipment of whale oil.

Cobourg's latest total assessment is $1,742,228 and population 4,883.

CEREMONIAL SESSION OF MYSTIC SHRINERS

Annual Gathering of Brethren Takes Place and Largely Attended

Victoria was invaded by a comparatively large detachment of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shriners yesterday, on the occasion of the annual "ceremonial session" of the Temple, which was held last evening at the Masonic hall, Douglas street. This city is the headquarters of the order for British Columbia, and delegates were present not only from all over the province, but from points in Alberta, Washington and Oregon, from as far south as Portland, and as far east as Calgary. In all, including the members of the local Temple, there were over 150 Shriners in attendance.

The ceremonial session began last evening at 7:30 o'clock and did not conclude till 12:30 o'clock this morning. A large number of new candidates were initiated, and business connected with the order discussed. At the conclusion of the session the delegates adjourned to the Dominion hotel, where the "Traditional Banquet" took place, commencing at about 1 o'clock this morning, and continuing for several hours. Covers were laid for 130. Thomas H. Armstrong, illustrious potentate, occupied the seat of honor at the head of the table, and about him were grouped the officers of the order.

The banquet marked the opening of the large new dining room of the Dominion hotel, which now affords the largest accommodation in the city. The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and Noble Stephen Jones was the recipient of many congratulations on the display. The tables were laid in two long parallel lines adjoining the head table, which stretched across the room. The ceiling was festooned with many-colored bunting, and the walls adorned with the decorations of the order, the whole presenting a fairland appearance. The scene when the company trooped within each member of the order wearing a fez was a memorable one. An orchestra in an alcove dispensed music throughout the banquet, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The menu cards were beautiful specimens of the printers art, the cover being embossed in gold with the emblem of the order, while the printing was in red on a white card. The toast list was not very extensive, being as follows: "The King," "The President of the United States," "The Imperial Council," "Our Temple," "Our Guests" and "The Neophytes."

PROGRAMME FOR THE SERVICES ON SUNDAY

Last Meeting of Third Week of Evangelist Services Held Last Night

The story of the prodigal son was the subject of the bible reading by Rev. J. E. Hunter at last evening's evangelistic services. He read Luke 15, giving a running commentary upon it and bringing out many points of interest in the story. He observed that many men make fools of themselves when they have money. They cut a wide swathe while their money lasts but when their money is gone, their friends are also gone. The prodigal when he got down to a position where he had to get "shuck" lunches with the swine had fallen pretty low for a Jew.

He had landed where many men are landed when they have had their so-called fling. He came to himself. The speaker stated that everybody has come to himself before he can come to God. He threw his arms around his neck and forgave him. God is always going to meet the prodigal. He does not wait for a long confession of sin. He merely wants to hear the prodigal state that he has repented. He forgives him without waiting to listen to any hardluck stories.

This was the gospel which the evangelists wished to teach. It is endorsed by the word of God.

The speaker, after referring to the need for more sympathy, and the good which it would do, urged the congregation to practice the precepts which the parable taught.

Rev. Mr. Crossley, prior to speaking, sang the colored melody, "The Massa of the Sheepfold."

He took as his subject "The Precious Things of the Bible."

He stated that some words in common parlance which are used too commonly. They become hackneyed, and have no meaning. He instanced the too common use of the word "lovely." The great preacher of the new testament never used a word so hackneyed as "lovely," and hence when he referred to a thing as "precious" it was precious.

There are some three thousand promises in the bible and many of these are precious promises. All the promises are true and are capable of fulfillment today. They are yea and amen to those who trust God.

Faith is precious. It is precious because it is necessary, perhaps because it is so scarce in the world. There is need for more saving faith in this world of materialistic views. This is suggested perhaps by the word of God, "When the Son of Man comes shall he find faith in the earth?"

"Precious is suffering." Paul knew what he was speaking of for the thorn in the flesh which remained to him from that suffering which brought his conversion, was a constant reminder. People do not suffer in vain, for suffering and pain are often the refining fire which eliminates the dross of character, sweetens the spirit and mellow the disposition. Paul's experience is helpful, "I glory in tribulation for tribulation worketh patience and patience experience and experience hope and hope maketh not ashamed."

"Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." The Lord takes care of his own and they need not fear death. God places a great estimate upon one of his children, and all are precious in his sight. The best way to repay his confidence is not to betray the trust which he has placed in man.

Mr. Crossley was followed by Rev. Mr. Hunter, who made a strong appeal for instant decision. The after-meeting was an interesting one.

Last night's was the last meeting of the week.

Sunday the pulpits of the city churches will be filled in the morning as follows:

First Presbyterian—Rev. G. K. B. Adams.

St. Andrew's—Rev. S. J. Thompson.

Victoria West—Rev. A. E. Roberts.

Metropolitan Methodist—W. Leslie Clay.

Centennial—C. Burnett.

Victoria West—Rev. D. McCrae.

James Bay—Rev. A. J. Brace.

Calvary Baptist—Rev. H. S. Crossley.

Central Baptist—Rev. H. A. Carson.

Emmanuel Baptist—Rev. L. Dakin.

Congregational—Rev. Geo. W. Dean.

Church of Our Lord—Rev. J. E. Hunter.

The afternoon services, which commence at 3:45 o'clock are as follows:

New Grand theatre, for men only, Mr. Crossley speaks on the subject of "The Mysteries."

In the Metropolitan church, Mr. Hunter speaks to women only on "The Model Woman."

At the evening service in the Metropolitan Methodist church, when both evangelists will be present, the story of the conversion of St. John A. Macdonald will be told.

CAN SUPPLY THE WATER

Mr. Lubbe States Waterworks Company Can Meet Lighting Demands

Mr. Lubbe, managing director of the Esquimalt Waterworks company, stated last night that there was no reason to think that there would be such a shortage of water that the B. C. Electric company would find it necessary to resort to steam power to maintain its system of street lighting.

The waterworks company is at present, he said, supplying 8,250,000 gallons per day to the electric company for its lighting system and this amount can be kept up indefinitely. He does not think that there will be any necessity for the electric company to seek any other means of supplying power.

The B. C. Electric company has commenced the building of an additional steam plant which is expected to be in running order in a day or two, and which will, it is expected, give an additional 2,000 horse power which will be utilized for supplying electricity for lighting and other purposes. The additional steam plant, A. T. Gowar, states, will result in the electric company being able to do with about two million gallons of water less per day than at present being used, should it be found necessary to resort to it. The additional plant now being fixed up is the old plant used several years ago before the present company assumed control.

CANNOT BUILD BRIDGE

Provincial Government Will Not Build Traffic Bridge at Mission as Yet

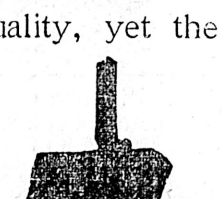

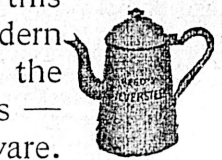

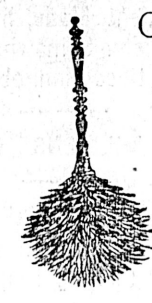

The provincial government has been unable to grant the request of the delegation from Dewdney asking that the government construct a traffic bridge across the Fraser at Mission in connection with the railway bridge which the C. P. R. is about to construct. The cost of such a work, $125,000 is thought to be excessive and the government cannot afford that for this purpose at present and the C. P. R. is not willing to accede to the arrangement in any event.

During the voyage from Newcastle, N. S. W., the British steamer Kentmere, which arrived at San Francisco Thursday, experienced some heavy weather. She was eighty-eight days on the passage and in a heavy gale when the seas were washing her decks, Leonard Frazer, one of her seamen, was washed overboard and drowned. Another, Robert Frolie, was swept along the deck by a huge wave and his shoulder badly bruised and dislocated.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

The New Grand

There will be a ten cent children's matinee at the New Grand this afternoon and the week will close with two performances tonight. The bill this week has given the greatest satisfaction to the crowded houses every night. It includes the Nelson-Farnum troupe of comedy acrobats, Herbert Brenon and Helen Downing in the dainty comedy playlet "One Christmas Eve," Felix Adler, dialect singing comedian; Howard and DeLeon, equilibrist and contortionists; Gloria Dare, comedienne; T. J. Price, balladist, and good moving pictures.

Pantages Theatre

The performance that has been so popular throughout the week at the Johnson street theatre is one that will prove very interesting for the young people, and those wishing to see a splendid entertainment can do so by attending the ten cent matinee this afternoon. Every act on the programme can be appreciated by the school children, two acts in particular will appeal to their tastes, those of the Fishers and Hayes and Albion, the beautiful spectacular contortion act of Baby Fisher, assisted by her father is one that all children should see. The scenery and mechanical effects are pretty and very natural. Baby Fisher is without doubt the greatest child contortionist now before the public. Hayes and Albion in their sketch the "Clerk and Bell Boy" is the funniest of all acts. Mr. Albion (the dwarf) a comical little man in his imitation of a circus rider, substituting a sofa for the fiery steed is an act that will furnish great amusement for the boys and girls and one that they can laugh over for a long time. The moving pictures this week are also very amusing, and concludes one of the best programmes that this theatre has had for some time.

FIRE WARDENS WORK HAS A GOOD EFFECT

Loss of Timber Past Season is Less Than in Any Previous Year

The reports of the fire wardens appointed last session show that the ravages of the forests of British Columbia by fire have been less than in any previous year.

The patrolling of the woods and the enforcement of the regulations has been responsible for this and the result has meant a saving of many thousands of dollars to British Columbia.

According to the reports a frequent source of forest fires is the carelessness of campers who neglect to quench their camp fires and one of the wardens has recommended that a notice warning campers to observe the proper care should be prepared for posting in different localities.

Copies of the following notice, printed upon linen by the king's printer will be sent to the different fire wardens for posting in conspicuous positions:

"Any person or persons using or operating a donkey engine in connection with logging operations, shall see that all brush and inflammable matter is removed for a space of not less than fifty feet on all sides.

"There shall be available at each donkey engine in use during the dry season a supply of water of not less than 400 gallons, such amount to be obtainable at all times therein together with 12 galvanized iron buckets to be kept exclusively for fire protection purposes and in a convenient position.

"There shall also be available and kept solely for fire protection purposes six good shovels and three mattocks.

"In addition to the above there shall be available at each donkey engine, a suitable hand pump, to be maintained in good working order and in readiness for an emergency.

"It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of each donkey engine to maintain a watchman in the vicinity thereof during such time as the same is under fire and there is any possibility of fire spreading from such engine.

"A spark arrester shall be placed on the top of the smoke stack of each donkey engine. The arrester shall be constructed of a good strong steel or iron frame, firmly fastened to the top of the stack. The ribs shall be close enough together to prevent the wire from falling in or collapsing. The cover of the arrester shall be woven wire of a dimension of not less than No. 16 B. W. G., having twenty-five squares to the square inch in mesh. The top of the arrester to be not less than three times the area of the top smoke sack and at least 18 inches above the top."

The notice is signed by Hon. F. J. Fulton, chief commissioner of lands and works.

FALL FROM A SCAFFOLD

Two Painters Are More or Less Injured and Are Taken to the Hospital

While painting from a swinging stage at the residence of George Mathews, Lamson street, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Charles Perkins and Thomas Amos, two young men in the employ of Mellor Bros., Limited, 708 Fort street, were suddenly precipitated to the ground about twenty feet below, through the collapse of the gutter. They fell heavily, and were badly shaken up, though no bones were broken. They were taken to the Provincial Royal Jubilee hospital in the ambulance.

Perkins' injuries were slight, and he will be out and around in a couple of days. Amos, who was injured internally, is suffering from a severe strain, and will be confined to the hospital for some time. Both young men were unmarried. Amos rooms at the Clarence hotel, Yates street, while Perkins lives with his parents on Oswego street.

MANY INQUIRIES FOR LABORERS BEING MADE

Provincial Government in Receipt of Letters Telling of the Need of Them

The provincial government is receiving many replies to the circular sent out to the different rural districts for the purpose of establishing just what was the demand for agricultural laborers and domestic servants.

A large number of applications have been received, and the wages which the applicants state they are prepared to pay range from $2 a day down, with and without board.

From Ganges Harbor alone there are applications for help from eight farmers, the average wages they are willing to pay being $1.50 a day.

The majority of the applicants do not need the services of the required hands until spring, however.

They will be placed in communication with the Salvation Army labor department.

OBITUARY NOTICES

The funeral of the late R. Green, whose death occurred at the Jubilee hospital on November 12, will take place from Hanna's undertaking parlors this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The body of Edith Hall, the 17-year-old girl who died yesterday at the Royal Jubilee hospital, will be forwarded to Chilliwack, her former home for interment.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Murray took place yesterday from the residence of W. Hurst, Second street, at 8:45 a. m., and from St. Andrew's R. C. Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father J. Galway. The following were the pallbearers: M. McTernan, W. Grimm, P. Everett, P. McDonald, T. Geiger, and W. Sullivan.

THE STRANDED JEANIE

Expected to be Floated—Assistance Being Refused

The steamer Jennie of the Alaska Coast company, news of whose stranding in Wrangel Narrows, was given yesterday, is anchored to a buoy in the fairway and is expected to be floated without difficulty. The steamer's officials are refusing offers of assistance.

ADDITIONAL MARINE TO BRING JAPANESE

Japanese of Honolulu Making Arrangements to Send More Brown Men to British Columbia

Advices from Honolulu state that a Japanese company has made arrangements with the Allee line for the carriage of 600 Japanese to Vancouver, leaving the islands January 28, when the Indravelli is returning from her first trip to the Antipodes. The accident to the steamer may delay the departure of the company. Plans for further shipment of Japanese to British Columbia are being made, but no details have been perfected. A Honolulu paper quotes C. F. Chillingworth and S. Murayama, who were instrumental in bringing the Kumeric crowd to Vancouver. Chillingworth said:

"The Japanese here want to go and we are going to help them out."

Murayama, who went to British Columbia to look after the collecting of the $25 per head advanced to the Kumeric passengers, arrived home only last week on the Alameda. Regarding the labor conditions in the Northwest, he said:

"There are absolutely no good grounds for the restriction to Japanese in Vancouver. There is more than enough work for all, and the only trouble is that there is not enough labor to go around. Why, in less than ten days after the Kumeric crowd landed there wasn't a Japanese of the lot who wasn't at work at from $1.75 to $2 per day. They were snapped up by contractors and rushed out in all directions. The only trouble is caused by the antagonism of the labor unions, and does not indicate that there is a lack of work in Canada, or that there is not a demand for more labor than can be supplied."

Fred Makino, the Japanese who chartered the Indiana, addressing a meeting of Japanese, said:

"Instead of your trying to go to the mainland or Vancouver, it is best that you remain here and cultivate the land. You can earn more in the long run by doing so than by continuously working for the plantations. In order to be popular in the community advertise yourselves in the newspapers. This will be a promotion work for you and the land in which we live."

WILL BUILD STEAMER

Union Steamship Company to Construct Vessel at British Columbia Shipyard

It is reported that the Union Steamship company, operating a large fleet of coasting vessels in British Columbia waters, is planning to have a vessel built at a British Columbia port, says the Vancouver Province.

J. H. Wrigley, of the Union Steamship company, when questioned regarding the report said that he would make no statements regarding the matter, did not deny that there was something in the plan.

G. T. Legg will leave for England shortly to take delivery of the new steamer Caribou for the Union Steamship company, who will bring her around to this coast.

The steamer Oania of the Blue Funnel line left Yokohama yesterday for this port.

REMOVING A ROCK.

Menace to Ships at Vancouver Dock Being Taken Away.

At the C.P.R. wharf at a Vancouver divers and drillers are at work attempting to remove a dangerous submerged ledge of rock directly in front of the machine shop opposite the Canadian Pacific pier near the detention shed. It is not a very extensive ledge and some attempt has been made to blow away the face of it with giant powder, but failed.

The steamship Montague was tied at the dock where the Empress is at the present time and it being necessary to move her forward a short distance to make room for another ship astern, she pushed her nose on this sunken ledge, close to the piling at low water and rested until high tide. She was well loaded prior to being moved and it took some effort to get her off again.

After that incident the C.P.R. decided to put divers to work taking an accurate survey of the ledge, and they are now superintending the work of the drillers preparatory to blasting it away and making a clear depth from one end of the present dock to the other.

FROM THE NORTH.

C.P.R. Steamer Amur Reached Port Yesterday Morning.

The steamer Amur arrived from Northern British Columbia yesterday morning with a large number of passengers, 9,000 cases of salmon and 12,000 feet of lumber. The salmon is from the Skeena river, Balmoral canneries, the Skeena river, Commercial company and the Queen Charlotte Packing company, and the lumber is for the Wallace shipyard. The Amur will be hauled out on the Victoria Machinery depot's ways to be overhauled and will be replaced on the northern B. C. route by the steamer Princess Beatrice, which leaves tonight for Prince Rupert, Port Essington, Jedway, Skidegate and way ports.

SLOOP WAS WRECKED.

Prospectors Spoke Steamer City of Seattle in Fitzhugh Sound.

Capt. O'Brien, of the steamer City of Seattle, just returned from the north, reports being spoken by a small sloop containing two men, who stated they were prospectors and in need of assistance. The strange feature about these two fellows is that they declined to give their names or the name of the sloop belonging to their outfit, which they stated was wrecked in a little cove on the west shore of Fitzhugh Sound. There was an old man aboard the sloop, they said, who was sick.

They said they had not seen any other human beings for nearly two months. Capt. O'Brien asked if they needed any supplies, but the men said not unless they could get some tobacco.

John Devlin, able seaman, of Glasgow, 40 years of age, was lost overboard in midocean from the British steamship Frankby, which has arrived at Port Angeles, at about 10 o'clock at night on October 31. The Frankby is twenty days out from Molt Japan, which port she left on October 25, in ballast.

A MARKED CHANGE

Mr. Whitney, a candidate for the governorship of Massachusetts was defeated. There was a time when a statement of this kind would have been commented upon from one end of Canada to the other, and expressions of regret would have been many, for Mr. Whitney's candidature was the culmination of a three years campaign in favor of reciprocity with the Dominion. As yet we have not noticed a single expression of regret in any of our newspapers, the nearest to it being the statement of the Toronto Globe to the effect that all disinterested people recognize that reciprocity would be advantageous, a statement which is promptly qualified by saying that the people of the Dominion were quite indifferent as to whether or not it was ever brought about. Those of us, who are old enough to remember the early years of Confederation, say the first half of our history as a united country, will remember how very large reciprocity bulked in the eyes of the public. Nor was this unreasonable. Nowadays it is customary to misunderstand and misrepresent the opinions of the founders of Confederation and their immediate successors, and this is largely because so many of the new generation of voters are not well informed as to what took place in the years referred to and the period immediately preceding them. To understand the strength of the sentiment in favor of reciprocity with the United States it is necessary to go back nearly sixty years, when the struggling provinces of British North America were beginning to feel acutely the change in the navigation laws of the United Kingdom, whereby their ships, which were the chief source of income to a great many people, were deprived of advantages previously enjoyed by them in British commerce. This was the legitimate result of the adoption of the policy of free trade. There is no doubt that in the early 50's the British provinces were in a bad way, and it was to improve business conditions that the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854 was negotiated with the United States. The effect of this upon business was remarkable, and a period of very great prosperity was inaugurated. This treaty expired by lapse of time in 1864 and the United States government, smarting under a fancied sense of injury done them by the provinces in the War of Secession, refused to renew it. For the next two or three years the attention of the people was occupied by the Confederation campaign and it was so confidently expected that great commercial expansion would result from the proposed union of the provinces that reciprocity was for a time forgotten. This expectation was not realized and the progress of the country was undeniably slow. It is small wonder that the Canadians generally hoped for a renewal of favorable trade relations with the United States, but all overtures in that direction were rejected at Washington, and undoubtedly because those in charge of the government of the United States hoped that by denying the desired boon they would bring about the Annexation of the Dominion to the Republic. So things continued until 1873 when the National Policy was announced by Sir John Macdonald and adopted by the country. It would be a mistake to suppose that this was meant to take the place of Reciprocity. Indeed, the Conservative leaders were quite hopeful that it would lead to some measure of that kind being adopted. The Liberals were stronger than ever in their demand for a new treaty, and some of them even went so far as to advocate a Commercial Union with the United States. It was ten years before the public men of Canada ceased to look upon Reciprocity as a very great consideration, but after the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway the people generally began to awaken to the idea that the Dominion might after all manage to get along without any commercial favors from their neighbors, and the idea has strengthened with the years and with the development of the country, until it can be said with perfect truth that the very great majority of the Canadian electorate are absolutely indifferent on the subject, and it is a great question whether or not any scheme for reciprocal trade would find popular acceptance. It certainly would not, if it was not one entered into on terms of perfect equality, and we very greatly doubt if any treaty along the lines of that of 1854, which encouraged the export of raw materials to the United States, would receive the sanction of any parliament that could be elected.

This wonderful change is undoubtedly due to the statesmanlike policy of Sir John Macdonald and those associated with him after the elections of 1873. Possibly the great Premier "bulldozed" rather than he "knew" all great statesmen have done this. The speech with which Sir Leonard Tilley introduced the National Policy tariff, if read now, seems timid and in some particulars mistaken. But the principles, to which Sir John Macdonald committed the Conservative Party in 1873, were sound, and of this fact we need no better proof than is afforded by the fact that the Liberals, although they have been eleven years in power with a parliament ready to carry out any policy which might be recommended by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, have not departed from the principles upon which, on the appeal of Sir John Macdonald, the electors overthrew the Mackenzie administration in 1873. The application of those principles may have been varied to some extent, and perhaps not always for the better, but the country today stands indifferent to the views of its neighbors on the question of Reciprocity, because of the policy which Sir John Macdonald formulated in the hour of his political adversity and the people triumphantly endorsed. This policy was more than a demand for a protective tariff; it was more than a demand for the immediate construction of a transcontinental railway. It was an assertion that Canada contains within her borders all that is necessary for development and prosperity—an appeal to the people to have faith in their country and themselves, and go forward with resolution and courage. This was the true spirit of the National Policy. For this the Conservatives stood in 1873, and for this they will stand in 1907, when the people of Canada have a fresh opportunity to say who shall control the destiny of the Dominion.

THE FUTURE OF CANADA

We hardly ever take up an English paper without seeing something in it about the future of Canada. The other day Mr. Harold Begbie told us that if Canada should "cut the painter" it would not affect the public interest in a single cricket match, but Mr. Begbie is a poet and we must not always take literally what poets say. It is impossible that the very frequent references to the Dominion, almost all of them of a highly appreciative nature, which have appeared in the British press during the last year or two, can have left the people as indifferent to the future relations of Canada, to the Mother Country, as Mr. Begbie seems to think they are. Nevertheless, the future of the great North Land is a topic upon which it is always timely to say something.

We note that most of the writers assure the people of Great Britain that Canada is loyal to the British Crown. Canadians regard such an assurance as unnecessary. A few enthusiastic young men in Toronto about a score of years ago, began an independent movement, but it made no progress worth mentioning, and we venture to doubt if any candidate for the House of Commons, offering specifically to secure an expression of opinion in favor of severing the tie with the Empire, could get enough voters to sign his nomination papers to entitle his name to be put upon the ballot. All Canadians are for independence within the Empire and though none of them could state how they expect this will be consummated in the most perfect sense, they rest confident that it will be accomplished. If the history of the British Empire teaches one thing more forcibly than another, it is that the Imperial Constitution will be built up as the British Constitution has been, of which indeed, it is only an extension, namely, "from precedent to precedent." It might not be amiss if some of the zealous English Imperialists would endeavor to appreciate what this means.

Loyalty to the Crown is happily at this time synonymous with loyalty to the Imperial tie, and it is not a matter that is wholly, or even in a great degree, dependent upon trade relations, as some people think. There are those who say that, unless our products get a preference in the markets of the United Kingdom, Canadian loyalty will receive a rude shock; but we do not believe it. Loyalty would certainly be "too costly" if it could only be preserved by a change in the fiscal policy of the United Kingdom. We are not arguing against reciprocal preference. This would be an excellent thing for Canada, and we should be more than pleased if the people of the United Kingdom could come to see that it would be a good thing for them. But just as Canada imposed a duty upon goods coming from the United Kingdom, as well as from foreign countries, and the British people did not consider this action on our part as affecting their relations to us; so the British people may adopt whatever fiscal policy they deem best without our considering that our relations to them are prejudicially affected thereby.

Canada's future is too great a subject and presents too many ramifications to be dealt with in one article, and we therefore confine ourselves today only to the special aspect of it dealt with above, for it is with this that the British press seems most concerned at the present time. This new interest is probably due to the new light which the British public have received as to the potential greatness of Canada. They have been told that we have become a nation; they have been told that we will become one of the greatest nations. Our position as the key-stone in a great Imperial arch has been pointed out with remarkable clearness and force by journalists and others who have made a study of our country. It is therefore wholly reasonable that those persons to whom these things are a revelation, should ask whether in the years to come this giant daughter of the West will remain faithful to the glorious Mother Land. This is why the Colonist feels that it should express as strongly as it can what it regards as the heartfelt wish of the Canadian people, which is that not anything, which the future may disclose, will weaken the Imperial tie, but that the free working out of British institutions on both sides of the Atlantic will result in the forging of bonds between the United Empire and the Dominion, which will be all the stronger because none of us can very clearly define of what they consist. The attraction of gravitation is none the less potent because science cannot find out its nature.

The announcement that Mr. Bryan is willing to be a candidate for the presidency may be classed as needless information.

The Sultan Abdel Aziz, of Morocco, evidently has no intention of becoming the Sultan Abdel As Was, and he has issued a proclamation to that effect.

The condition of the British Premier is much improved. As his illness was simply the result of overwork, there is little likelihood that he will be called upon to retire.

After two abortive trials, the Czar has managed to get a Parliament that is likely to do what he and his ministers wish. Nicholas is not the first engineer who has tried the experiment of sitting on the safety-valve.

The bill for damages in the Vancouver riot case amounts to $10,775. But the municipal council of the Terminal City will object to paying it quite as strenuously as if it were ten times that amount.

Do not hoard your money is the advice of Secretary of the Treasury to the people of the United States. It is excellent advice, but it is not likely to be acted on. The people of the United States have very little confidence in their banks.

Mr. Ernest Thompson-Seton has been telling the New York people about the wonderful value of Canada's sub-Arctic region. His observations will possess greater interest and value, when details of his journey are published. The telegraphic despatches are too general in their language to enable one to say if he has explored any new lands.

The most nonsensical story that has been circulated for a long time is that which comes from Paris about the United States government withdrawing gold from Europe so as to be ready to fight Japan. The United States treasury already holds so much gold and silver that the utmost imports possible would only be a fraction compared with what is already on hand.

It is interesting to read that the Peabody Fund, which was left by the deceased United States millionaire in 1860 for the purpose of building houses for the London poor, is still being administered. The amount of the fund was $2,500,000. Just imagine what would have happened if some one had left such a sum of money to build houses for the San Francisco poor.

It is said that President Roosevelt has decided to back water a little in regard to his financial policy. It may be taken for granted that, if he does, the big financiers will strain every nerve to improve business conditions, so that future presidents may keep their hands off the business affairs of the people. If they can show that Mr. Roosevelt has made a blunder and needlessly frightened the whole country, they will have gained a great point for themselves and postponed the inevitable day of reckoning.

A locomotive in New Jersey has traveled at a rate exceeding ninety miles an hour around a curve. Possibly we are old-fashioned, but we fail to see the advantage of going at the rate of more than ninety-one miles an hour on a curve or anywhere else. It may on occasion be necessary for some one to get to some place so badly that he needs to be shot through the air, but we have got our civilization on a wrong basis when we make such travel necessary as a regular thing. Nine hundred and ninety-nine men out of a thousand would be just as well off, if they could not travel any faster than they did in the old stage-coach days.

Elsewhere will be found a statement of some ideas entertained by some Victoria people in regard to action necessary in anticipation of the forthcoming municipal elections. The names of those who have so expressed themselves to the Colonist are withheld so that there may be no personal aspect to the suggestions. The Colonist neither supports nor opposes them at the present time. Municipal politics, like every other kind of politics, are severely practical, and before we advocate any course of procedure, we would like to feel satisfied that it will have the desired results. We shall be glad to hear from readers on the subject of the suggestions mentioned.

Standard Oil has paid a quarterly dividend of 10 per cent. Without knowing upon what capitalization this is paid, it is not possible to say whether or not it indicates the robbery of consumers. On general principles one may say that a business that pays 40 per cent. a year upon transactions involving the handling of an article of almost universal consumption, has a hold on the public that ought to be broken. Of course a business with small capitalization may have such earning powers that a small and legitimate profit would amount even to more than its whole capital every year, but we doubt if this is the case with Standard Oil. A quarterly dividend of 10 per cent., declared at a time of financial stringency, will lead the common folk to do a good deal of thinking.

LICENSE COMMISSION
CONSIDER CHARGES

Complaints of Irregularities at Poodle Dog Inquired Into Decision Reserved

Whether the Poodle Dog hotel will retain its license will be definitely announced by the license commission on Monday afternoon. After a lengthy session yesterday afternoon, at which the report of Chief of Police Langley and the recommendation of the police commission, arrived at a meeting of the latter body on Thursday afternoon, were considered, and evidence taken, the license commissioners stated that they would reserve their decision until Monday, this delay being occasioned by the fact that the commissioners, Mayor Morley and Alderman Ross, wished time to look over the evidence.

The latter expressed himself as quite ready to give an immediate decision. He thought that the evidence submitted to the license commissioners was not sufficient to warrant the taking away of the license immediately. There was, he thought, a doubt as to whether the proprietors of the hotel, Messrs. Smith and Shaughnessy, were conducting the Poodle Dog in an improper manner, and he suggested that they be given another chance, the next infraction of the bylaw to be met by cancelling the license. Ald. Ross, however, consented to discuss the matter in private with Mayor Morley and the latter returned a few minutes later with the information that judgment would be reserved.

The meeting of the license commissioners was a special one called as a result of the recommendation sent to it by the police commission that the question of the cancelling of the Poodle Dog license be considered. At the meeting of the police commission on Thursday afternoon a report was presented by Chief of Police Langley. Mr. Smith, one of the proprietors of the Poodle Dog was present and while the statements then made by the chief and Mr. Smith were not taken under oath, the session resulted in a recommendation to the license commission that "the commission having considered the report of the chief of police and hearing Mr. Smith, the commission has no doubt but that the Poodle Dog hotel has been run in a disordered manner, and is of the opinion that the license commission should consider the matter on Monday."

This recommendation was acted upon, the license commissioners meeting in the committee room at the city hall yesterday afternoon. Messrs. Smith and Shaughnessy were present and were represented before the commission by their solicitors Frank Higgins, H. Dallas Helmecken and George Morley.

Mayor Morley in opening explained that many complaints had been received as to the manner in which the Poodle Dog was being conducted and of his having warned Smith, one of the proprietors, last spring, when a promise was made that the women who were frequenting the place would be driven out. Recently, other reports had been made.

Chief of Police Langley was called and read the report made to him by the detective department, giving the names of six women of unsavory reputation and mentioning two others, whom he did not know who had been making the Poodle Dog their headquarters until Wednesday last.

Detective Sergeant Palmer also gave evidence.

Smith gave evidence himself, saying that he did not know anything about any disreputable women being in the house, but said that since Wednesday no women had been allowed upstairs. He attributed the reports against his house to the jealousy of others in the restaurant and hotel business.

G. R. Werner, formerly clerk at the Poodle Dog and who gave evidence as to the respectability of the house.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS

A Proposal to Call a Convention of Citizens Has Been Advanced

A number of prominent citizens and leading business men are now giving consideration to the question of the expediency of initiating a movement having as its aim the improvement of the personnel of the civic administration. It has been suggested, said a prominent citizen, that the time has come when it is necessary to summon a convention of all those in the community who are of the opinion that Victorians as a body should embark on a policy that will prevent the nomination of candidates for civic honors being left to personal initiative, and make them follow upon the decision of the ratepayers in convention assembled.

Should it be determined to take any action along these lines it is likely, said the citizen referred to, that at an early date a few prominent ratepayers, representative, as far as may be possible, of all interests in the city, will meet to outline a definite course of procedure. Acting on the assumption that a very large proportion of the electors are dissatisfied with the manner in which the public affairs of the city have been transacted in the past, and that if the people will but unite a great improvement can be made in the personnel of the council board. It is thought that if this self-constituted committee issues a call for a convention the attendance would be very large and the thoroughly representative. If a convention of this sort is called it will be explained in the most emphatic fashion that the movement is born solely of a bona fide desire on the part of the electorate to improve the civic administration, and not in the slightest degree to aid in the elevation of any particular man to office. It is solely to endeavor to overcome the existing apathy in civic affairs, that the proposed step is contemplated. As the municipal elections of 1908 are now near at hand, there is no time to lose if action is to be taken along the lines suggested. It may be related that it was George Carter, of the George Carter Co., Ltd., who first mentioned the wisdom of proceeding along this course.

There is very little doubt that if some of the prominent business men, who had heretofore refused to allow their names to be placed in nomination, could be assured of the united support of a large body of ratepayers, representatives of all interests, they would stand for election.

Save Your Clothes by Using This Help:

Yesterday we unpacked a big shipment of "Acme" Washing Machines—unquestionably the very acme of perfection in Washing Machines. This is the machine you see advertised so extensively in the Ladies' Home Journal and other high-class magazines. After careful investigation of the merits of the leading makes we chose this. We have sold many, and although we give a very sweeping guarantee with an extremely liberal return option we have yet to receive the first complaint. Nor do we ever expect to receive any. Every buyer of one of these machines will be a satisfied user.

The principle on which all ACME WASHERS work is the only correct principle for a washing machine. There is no churning, beating or rubbing of clothes as in many machines, which is really harder on them than the actual wear. Instead, the dirt is removed by DRIVING THE WATER THROUGH THEM with terrific force, which does the cleaning thoroughly and without in the slightest degree injuring the fabric. The ease of operation is another important feature. The greater burden of the work is put on the machine instead of on the operator. THE SLIGHTEST TOUCH WILL START THE MACHINE into motion, even if it is full of clothes and water. Come in and let us show you these and many other advantages.

We guarantee that the Acme Washers will do more work and better work, with less real work on your part, and with less wear and tear on the clothes than any other method. If you do not find it so, return the machine. You will be nothing out, as we take all the risk.

JAPANESE CLAIMANTS RECEIVE RECOMPENSE

Commissioner King Pays for Damages Done in Vancouver Riots

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 15.—This morning Commissioner King began the payment of the riot claims of the Japanese, which, as foreshadowed last week, have been cut down to two-thirds of the total claims as at first presented. The total amount asked was $13,576, while the amount allowed is $9,036.

The commissioner has, however, received a cheque for $10,775. Out of the balance he will allow Mr. Mori-kawa $600 expended in preparing the estimated claims, $1,000 to Mr. Howard Duncan, fee as counsel for the claimants, and the Japanese government, and $139 to the claimants as having been expended by them in preparing their accounts.

The reduction of $4,550 from the total claims, sixty-two in all, was chiefly made up by the disallowance of the accounts for extra guards and "feasts," which in some cases included wines and other drinks. The tenant-landlord question was met by the commissioner paying the tenants' claim in every case where it appeared that the tenant would have to pay for the damage, or be involved in litigation. Then the commissioner paid the loss of the net rather than the gross profits as submitted.

A release was obtained from each claimant as he was paid today, and a cable was sent to Tokyo to Hon. Adolphe Lemieux, announcing the payment of the claims. The Japanese consul also so informed his government.

Late yesterday the commissioner adjourned the immigration inquiry, and it may not resume before Monday. Meanwhile the commissioner will go to Victoria to examine the passengers on one of the Maru liners now at Victoria and detained there at his request. It is reported that there are over one hundred third class passengers, all Japanese, on the vessel.

"I told your clerk yesterday that I didn't believe him. Now, since hearing your statements I am confirmed in that view. I shall report the facts to the attorney-general to take what steps he deems advisable, for it is important that the authority of the crown should be fully respected in evidence before this inquiry."

Commissioner King felt compelled yesterday to thus rebuke Mr. Senko, a clerk in the Canadian Kango company who yesterday stated that he was "the other partner," receiving three-sevenths of the profits of the business. The other four-sevenths went to Manager Ogawa. It was a verbal agreement, because he "had not had time to reduce it to writing."

Gifford, M.P.P., hon. pres.; W. R. Gordon, vice-pres.; H. P. Latham, secretary; J. H. Vidal, C. D. Peel, N. R. Brown and John Eagles, executive. Will Nominate Monday

New Westminster, Nov. 15.—The Liberal nominating convention is to be held in this city on Monday afternoon next promises to be the largest of the kind in the history of the city, and the country delegates will far outnumber those from the city.

Nearly one hundred and fifty delegates are expected, as the representation from each of the four outlying districts, Cowichan, Chilliwack, Delta and Richmond, will number from twenty to thirty-five, while the city delegates number only forty.

The convention will be called to order at 2 o'clock in the Assembly hall, on Victoria street, and the nomination of a candidate will be proceeded with at once. As soon as it is settled a number of important resolutions will be offered to the convention for adoption. They will deal with the Ontario question and other important matters.

Declares Dividend

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 15.—Director Gifford of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company last night received a cablegram from London stating that at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the company a dividend at the rate of 8 per cent. was declared on the deferred ordinary stock for the six months ending June 30. The meeting also confirmed the previously announced dividend to the employees of the company whereby each man entitled to share in the annual bonus will receive $63.

Teachers Salaries Raised

New Westminster, Nov. 15.—The long-deferred petition of the teachers of the public schools for an increase in their salaries has been answered, and those who mould the young mind will receive an increase in their pay envelopes at the first of the year.

The Board of School Trustees received the petition early in the present year, but decided that they could not do anything, as the estimates had already been passed. In accordance with that promise the whole question was taken up last night, and was discussed for five hours, it being long after midnight before adjournment.

MR. GIFFORD HONORED

He is Made Life Member of South African Campaigners of Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 15.—Hon. Maurice Gifford, C. M. G., whose services in behalf of the British empire have made him a prominent figure in many campaigns, was last night made a life member of the local organization of the South African Campaigners. The occasion was a smoker at the rooms of the United Service club, tendered Mr. Gifford by the organization. Mr. S. J. Halls presided and the attendance at the gathering was such as to fill the assembly rooms to the limit.

Mr. Gifford's address was an account of the career of the British army in South Africa as it came to his notice during his field service. It closed with the reading of a clipping from the London Times in which German officers who had been following the course of the war praised the Britishers without stint.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Gifford announced that he would donate $100 to the treasury of the local organization since he believed that the handling of the veterans of the war at this outpost of the Empire was a most helpful factor in directing the minds of residents of the bond between the Mother Country and her colonies.

A large number of local military men including Lieut.-Col. Whitworth, Lieut.-Col. Worsley, Lieut.-Col. Barwis, Lieut.-Col. Tracey, Mr. Glover, Mr. Abbott and others were present at the smoker. The occasion was of an informal character, consisting of songs, recitations and addresses by the Cunningham Quartette, Mr. Blackburn, Mr. Vander, Mr. McMahon, Mr. Hosseson, Capt. Hart-McFarr.

CONSERVATIVES ORGANIZE

Local Association is Formed at Jeddway in the Queen Charlottes

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 15.—A Conservative association has been formed on Queen Charlotte islands called the Skidegate Conservative association. The following officers were elected: President, Capt. W. Oliver, vice-president, G. Sharp; treasurer, James Cross; secretary, J. A. Owen.

The association has a strong membership list, but at the last election no ballot boxes were sent to Skidegate.

An increase in settlers has of late been so great that the day is not far distant when the district hopes to have its own member. Everything is progressing well on Queen Charlotte islands. The climate is unsurpassed, and with the wealth of timber, minerals, coal and agriculture land, the district promises to be one of the richest in the province.

OLD SOL DISTURBED

Earthquakes, Storms and Other Terrestrial Outbreaks May Now Be Expected

Oxford, Eng., Nov. 15.—A remarkable outbreak on the sun was observed by Professor Ambau, director of the scientific observatory, at 11:45 this morning.

An inflame shot up at the rate of over 12,000 miles a minute until it reached a height of 325,000 miles. At 12:10 it broke into fragments and disappeared.

Sun spots and solar disturbances have been observed for some days past. It has been predicted that they would reach their greatest altitude about the middle of November, and that they would probably lead to violent magnetic disturbances on earth, causing storms of the greatest violence, floods and violent earthquakes. Professor Pickering, of Harvard observatory, said some days ago that he expected the sun spots to be attended by an earthquake, but not of sufficient gravity to cause alarm.

Essex Wants the Money.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The town of Essex wants the $25,000 fine imposed by Mr. Justice Riddell on the Michigan Central Railway for carelessness in handling a car of dynamite, the explosion of which caused loss of life and great damage to property. A deputation from that town waited on Attorney-General Foy with that object in view.

Motorman on Trial.

Hamilton, Nov. 15.—Jas. M. McIlraith, motorman of the street car that collided with a freight train a few evenings ago, appeared before the magistrate this morning on the charge of criminal negligence. The company claims that he did not have proper control of the car, and was responsible. He was committed for trial. The collision resulted in the injury of seven persons.

Mr. Horne-Payne's Remarks at Annual Meeting of B. C. Electric Railway Company

London, Nov. 15.—Mr. Horne-Payne, speaking at the meeting today of the British Columbia Electric Railway company said Canadians might point with pride to the fact that no serious monetary crisis had arisen there, and owed a debt of gratitude to the prudent and managers of the great Canadian banks, whose foresight and strength of character had produced such results.

Canada, he said, was possibly the most prosperous country in the world.

PREMIER DEAKIN'S VIEW

Somewhat Sarcastic Reference to Colonial Office Despatch Concerning Secretariat

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 15.—In the federal house today, Premier Deakin laid on the table the Colonial Office despatch giving the particulars of the new secretariat for the Overseas Dominions. Mr. Deakin remarked that those familiar with the proceedings of the recent imperial conference, and who appreciated the importance of the proposals submitted by the Dominions over-the-sea for re-adjustment of their status, and the document received from the Colonial Office would be reminded of a mountain in labor which brought forth a mouse. He added: "Let us hope its appearance will mark the people of the Empire of the contrast between their needs and the outcome, while consoling them with the reflection that the mouse is creeping in the right direction."

Railway Official's Case.

New York, Nov. 15.—The trial of A. H. Smith, vice-president of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, indicted on a charge of manslaughter in the second degree in connection with a wreck on February 17, was set for November 29 today by Supreme Court Justice Kellogg.

A Bogus Clergyman.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Rev. Arthur Brown, alleged minister and pastor of Christ Church in this city was found guilty of marrying people without having the legal right to do so. He claimed to have been ordained by Rev. Mr. Salmon, but he had no authority to ordain him. The judge censured Brown for sending an impertinent letter to the Crown attorney. Brown was remanded for sentence.

Premier Scott's Ill-Health.

Regina, Nov. 15.—Premier Scott will in all probability spend the winter months at Nassau, a health resort in the Bahamas. His health has not been of the best since his return to the city last June, and it is thought that he will be unable to stand the winter here until more fully recovered from his attack of pneumonia. Owing to the Premier's absence from the city it is likely that the session will have to be postponed until well into the new year, and there is a possibility that it will be called at about the same date as last year.

Keir Hardie's Idea

London, Nov. 15.—Keir Hardie, in London, speaking of the Socialist and Labor movement in Canada, says that if only Socialists and trade unionists could find some common platform on which to stand, progress would be very rapid. There are four men in Canada, P. M. Draper, of Ottawa, James Simpson, of Toronto, A. W. Puttee, of Winnipeg and J. H. Hawthornthwaite, M. P. P., for Nanaimo, B. C., who if they would meet and come to some understanding would unite all the forces over the Dominion. A preliminary which would facilitate matters would be the frank declaration of Socialist principles by the Independent Labor Party. Mr. Hardie believes that Mr. Hawthornthwaite is destined to fill a commanding position in the politics of the Dominion.

Specials for Saturday Night at 8 o'clock

The word "Bargain" was never as popular as it is today. Once there was a notion abroad that bargains belittled a business. That fallacy is done away with in the fact that real bargains are truly dignified; but they must be genuine and their story true. The people of Victoria have not only confidence in Young's bargains but they look for them especially at the week-end.

Plain Face?

Your doctor understands the formula of Ayer's Hair Vigor. Ask him about your using it. Do as he says. He knows.

Did nature give you a plain face? What of it? Make your hair so handsome that every one will forget your face. Make them talk only of the softness, richness, and marvelous beauty of your hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor, "the new kind," does not color the hair. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

BUY YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS BEFORE RUSH

That is Advice Tendered to the People of Victoria

Many of the clerks employed in the local retail houses, and not a few business men, have expressed approval of a suggestion which appeared in the Colonist a few days ago to the effect that the purchasing public should do their Christmas shopping as early as possible, so as to avoid imposing a needless hardship upon the over-worked clerks during the last days of the season.

It is urged that if purchasers were but to consult their own comfort, convenience and welfare, to say nothing of having a kindly regard for the clerks, they would but buy early, as the stocks are now, in most instances, complete for Christmas, and when no "rush" is on they get better service and better choice of goods. One of the clerks, in speaking to a Colonist reporter yesterday along these lines, produced the following clipping from a recent issue of the Philadelphia Press, which he asked should be reproduced:

"Why rush madly on a present-buying quest in late December? 'Why' end the mad, jammed, overboiled stores and the unwelcome lion forced you out at 5.30, only to sway and swear (hardly) in street cars bulging with people and parcels?"

"Why reach home utterly worn out, yet be forced to spend the hours till long after midnight putting in stitches on false work that should all have been taken in the summer?"

"There may be sweet natures that are calm under a belated Christmas preparation, but the most of us are just down-right cross and snappy. It is just as easy to get through the bulk of our Christmas buying in November, and infinitely more soothing to our disposition.

"Holiday goods are already coming in and in the course of a week or two the stores will be just as full of attractive wares as a month later, and not half so full of shoppers.

"Material for making gifts and attractive novelties for buying are cheaper now than they are when the real Christmas rush begins, which is always a consideration when the list is long and the purse thin.

"Besides, you can take time to study the preferences of your friends. Last minute flits have a way of sulking anyone better than the person to whom they are sent.

"If you won't get your Christmas shopping out of the way early for selfish reasons, do it from pure humanitarianism.

"If the shopper is exhausted from one or two days of present hunting think what it must be to clerks to stand all day trying to please importunate and impatient buyers who could just as well have come before the rush began.

"Begin right now to make ready for the coming holiday.

"Buy a gift or two each day and shopping will not be a burden.

"When the packages come home tie up each gift in tissue paper and dainty ribbon, mark it clearly and put it away under a sheet in box or trunk."

"Damon and Pythias."

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

WILL REPAIR THE TRAIL

Government Agrees to Undertake the Work Between Quatsino and Hardy Bay

Repairs to the trail from Hardy Bay to Quatsino Sound will be made by the provincial government.

Mr. Grant reports that conditions in Cumberland and the north of the island are most prosperous. The farmers have been doing well, and the season just passed has been one of the most prosperous up to date.

Information is Laid by the Master of Sealing Schooner Thos. F. Bayard

Ah Fook, the Chinese cook of the sealing schooner Thomas F. Bayard, was charged in the police court yesterday with having stolen and sold the ship's stores to the amount of $108.95.

The information is laid under the Canadian Shipping Act and under its provisions the value of the stolen goods can be deducted from the man's pay, in addition to any punishment which may be inflicted.

At yesterday's session, Hans Blakstad, the master of the schooner, was examined and he swore that he mislaid the stores at Kyauquot and believed that the cook had stolen them and sold them to the Indians.

Theodore Tenneson and Peter Schewig, two Norwegian sailors, testified that they had seen the cook give certain provisions to Indians at Kyauquot and receive money therefor. They were cross-examined in an effort to show that the prosecution was a piece of spite work in which the Norwegian members of the crew were concerned.

The case was adjourned, Mr. Wootton, for the defense announcing his intention of calling the other members of the crew. The case was examined by the Norwegian, as is the captain.

SPEAKS OF CONDITIONS UPON THE COAST

A. B. Mackenzie, of Rossland, interviewed Upon Return From Victoria

A. B. Mackenzie, of Rossland, who recently paid an extended visit to this city, Vancouver and New Westminster, has upon his return to Rossland given an extended interview in which he refers to the conditions on the coast as most favorable.

The following appears in the Rossland Miner, of November 9:

Mackenzie said: "Business is going ahead on lively lines in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster. Money continues to come in there for investment from the northwest and the east. There is considerable building in progress yet, but the cost of construction has risen so high, owing to the high prices of labor and material, that only such structures are erected as are absolutely needed. There is still a demand for buildings, as they continue to be occupied as soon as finished. The banks and loan companies have ceased to loan money to speculators or on real estate, as they have other employment for their money, although it is difficult to say where all the currency has gone, and this has checked undue speculation in real estate and stopped the abnormal advance in realty values. However, existing loans are left undisturbed, no concessions being granted for repayment. People who purchased residential lots on time are making their payments, and in many instances paying for the lots in full before the balances are due on them in order that they may acquire title and build. At the same time the banks in Canada are carrying their regular customers and lending them money with which to carry on their business along the usual legitimate lines. Vancouver is a big, busy city, destined to become much bigger in the near future, and has outstripped Victoria in certain lines, while Victoria holds the palm as the banner residential place, is enjoying much prosperity, and is indeed a lovely place to live in. Considered that the Canadian banks and loan companies made a good move when they shut down on the speculators before the boom expanded to such large proportions that its breaking would have caused a widespread and disastrous panic, such as is really in existence in the United States, although being relieved there somewhat by very clever although unique practices.

"The lumber business is quiet at the coast, and this is due to a considerable measure to the falling off in the demand for lumber from the northwest. Then, too, the people everywhere were becoming too extravagant in many ways. Look at the large sums invested in automobiles used for pleasure. They are proving economical, though, in many ways—such as hauling heavy merchandise, as hotel buses, and in getting appliances to the city.

"The result of the good times has been to herd the people into cities, and the tightening of the purse strings will result in getting a large number of them out in the country, on farms, into the mines and into the forests, where they can produce something instead of being extravagant consumers of luxuries in cities.

"In Vancouver there are a large number of ex-Rosslanders, and they all seem to be prospering and are never more pleased than when they meet a Rosslander visiting Vancouver, for they endeavor to make his stay there pleasant. I undertook in an afternoon to find at least 200 ex-Rosslanders in Vancouver, and in one block on Hastings street met over 20 in a few minutes. They all speak pleasantly of Rossland, rejoice at its prosperity, and look back to their residences here with satisfaction.

"In Seattle and Spokane, owing to the scarcity of money, the banks through their clearing houses, are issuing certificates which are used as money, and pass current about the same as coin. This is thought will tide the banks over the money shortage period. That the certificates are not as good as money is evidenced by the fact that bankers when patrons want real money, shave them to the extent of 5 per cent, but I feel sure this state of affairs will not last long.

"I am delighted to get back to Rossland, for the mountain air is certainly most exhilarating, although I have no complaints to make of the coast weather, for it certainly was grand during my visit there, despite the fact that from time to time the fog was very thick there."

WOMEN'S

The Toronto Saturday Night says that while emigrants have been pouring into Canada this summer at the rate of a thousand a day, the great majority of them had not money enough with which to cross the continent. Some of these emigrants obtained positions during the summer in Ontario, but are now crowding into Toronto and other cities, where they will live during the winter. The Saturday Night suggests that if there is really so great a shortage of agricultural laborers as is claimed in this province, the employers of such labor should send agents to Toronto and Montreal to encourage a movement of skilled and unskilled labor to the Pacific Coast.

There are in this city a large and increasing number of young girls at work in the various places of business.
Some of them are far from home, and are quite inexperienced. They are as they should be care-free and happy.
They have the attractiveness peculiar to their age and innocence. No one can see the sweet faces that meet one in the stores and offices, or on the street, without feeling that the budding womanhood of Victoria gives promise of the happy homes of the future.

The grandmothers of many of us who are of Scotch descent, had a quaint saying which was repeated over and over again as some young girl left home to take her place in the world of workers. With the last of the handclasp came the words whispered often with cooing voice, "take care of yourself."

The old fashioned saying had a warning which is needed now as much as it was forty years ago. Indeed, the temptations which beset the paths of inexperience are perhaps greater than they were then. There is a practice, we have been informed, common among girls, which is full of danger, not only to their happiness, but to their self respect. It is that of accepting presents and receiving attention which involve the spending of money from gentlemen who are not acquaintances.

The girl who is earning only a small salary is obliged to deny herself many pretty things which she would like to possess and to content herself with inexpensive amusements. It is far better to work for all time to sacrifice independence by accepting from a man about whom she cares
nothing, the means of gratifying tastes perfectly innocent in themselves. A woman often finds that through vanity, good nature or inexperience, she has allowed herself to encourage a friend to whom she is very hard to refuse when they have gone too far.

There is another standpoint from which to view this conduct. A man who finds that such marked attentions have been favorably received, but a right to believe that he has gained the affection of the girl to whom he pays them.

It is far better to wait for such favors till the words have been said which give a man the right to bestow and a girl the right to receive, whatever of this world's good a man has to offer.

These words of affectionate warning have not been written for that meanest and cruellest of womankind—a flirt—but as a word of advice to the gentle, womanly, but inexperienced girl to whom we would whisper the old time warning "Take care of yourself, my dear."

WOMAN'S WORK

An attempt was made at various places yesterday afternoon to learn just what was the true state of affairs with regard to domestic service.

The first person seen was Capt.
Travis, of the Salvation army. He said that while every woman who has come to the Salvation army headquarters here and asked for work has obtained employment, sufficient applications have not been received to warrant the army officers in sending for the two hundred and fifty women who are waiting to come here from England. The army guarantees to supply those who need it with efficient help, but each applicant must deposit $50 to pay or partially pay for the increased cost of transportation between eastern cities and the coast. A number of deposits have been made by business people and by others, but not nearly so many as were anticipated. Asked as to the wages that would be expected by those English women, Capt. Travis said that the scale would be from $15 upwards and intimated that the average wage expected would be $20 as that sum could be readily obtained in Toronto.

The next call was made at Mrs.
Turner's Employment Agency, Fort street. Mrs. Turner said that for the last three days there had been about as many applications for help as there had been applicants for situations.
During the past few weeks a great many women had come to Victoria, either directly from the Old Country or from the prairies. Most of the latter were really English servants who had come first to Manitoba or the new provinces and who after a short stay had crossed the mountains to seek a milder climate. They had all found situations and Mrs. Turner had no doubt they would give the most satisfaction. A bright little girl of fifteen came into the store, who said that she came from Nanaimo and was very happy in her new home. She was very trim and neat and her respectful, but self-reliant manner would convince any lady that she would be an efficient help at any task suited to her age and strength.

Being asked as to whether many Victorian girls applied for situations
in the homes in their own city, Mrs.
Turner said, no. Such applicants were the exception. Girls here would rather work in stores, factories or offices at low wages than do housework for which they were well paid. There were exceptions, but this was the rule. "What wages do these girls receive?"

"That depends on the class of work they do. A young nurse girl of fifteen will get from $12 to $15 a month.
A woman who can take full charge of a child and care for it if necessary in sickness, can command a salary of $25 a month. A housemaid can earn on an average of $20 a month. A servant of this class is not kept in many homes, and would, in some places, be expected to wait on the table as well as keep rooms in order. A cook could command a salary ranging from $25 to $35 according to ability.
In many homes women were being employed as cooks in preference to Chinamen.

There were plenty of charwomen to be had if employers were willing to pay $1.50 a day and a laundress would receive $1.75.

At the Young Women's Christian Association rooms Miss Woodward stated that many girls came to enquire where situations could be had.
A list of ladies in need of help was furnished the applicant. Nothing more was heard of her and it was supposed that all who had enquired had found the work they sought.

Miss Woodward has only recently undertaken the work of the organization and has not yet had time to get in touch with the ladies of the city who have sent in request for help.

A friend, who takes a deep interest in those who are employed in domestic work and who has had much experience among working women stated that, while no competent woman who wanted employment in a home need be idle in Victoria, the scarcity of help from which ladies had suffered during the past months seemed to be coming to an end.

The Montreal Witness of last Saturday contains illustrations of the Young Women's Christian Association building, and of several of its departments. Spacious and handsome as the building is, it is not large enough to accommodate the work of the organization and an additional outlay of $50,000 is being proposed.
The Witness claims that the Y.W.C.A. is the largest college in Canada, its work embracing classes in many branches of education essential to women. Not only is the building a social and religious centre for the young women employed in the city but it affords many of them a comfortable home. One of the aims of the organization is to assist the strangers who arrive in the city on the trains,
and the steamboats.

The young woman who comes to Montreal finds in the officers and members of the Y.W.
C.A. friends who are not only willing but anxious to assist her.

tian Association on Friday, November

ed in the work of prevention of cruelty to animals are invited to attend.

On With the Song.

Off with the shadow and on with the
song,
The way and the day to the sunshine
belong;
Troubles will vanish and sorrows will flee
With the song on the lips and a heart
full of glee.

Off with the sighing and on with the smile,
The long line will turn at the end of the mile.
And over the ridges the valleys will gleam
With velle of violets and purple of dream!

Off with the worry and on with the prayer;
Life has its thorns, but the roses are there!
Tolling and spinning, O true heart and strong,

Off with the shadow and on with the
song!

Worth More Than "Rights"

No material possession can ever compensate for the loss of love. We all realize this after the barter has been made, and love has been destroyed.
It is often hard to realize it beforehand, when our "rights" are being grossly betrayed, and a loved one is plainly and wholly in the wrong.
The insistent temptation then, is to secure our "rights" at any cost, or if it is too late to secure them, at least to let everything go in outspoken and unsparring denunciation of the injustice. Many a once loving family has been disrupted in just that way.
Other families have resolutely put lower than "rights," and have gained much, and lost nothing, by so doing.
For the securing of justice at the cost of destroyed relationships never brings anything but misery. It usually means simply the addition of unnecessary misery to that which the wrong-doing has already caused. On the other hand, those who put love higher than rights sometimes unexpectedly find their rights returning to them, and whether they do or not, they have held on to a treasure that grows bigger and dearer with every passing year.—S. S.
Times.

When Sleep is Most Needed

Perfect health demands not only a fixed amount of sleep, but the observance of regular habits, says Dr. John D. Quackenbush in "Good Housekeeping." And perfect sleep for man can be obtained only at night, as suggested by the rhythmical succession of light and darkness. There is point to the old proverb: "An hour's sleep before midnight is worth two after." Those who are in the habit of turning night into day realize this to their cost. The hour before midnight, that is worth two after is from 11 to 12. And inasmuch as the human system is more below par at 3 a.m. than at any other period in the twenty-four hours sleep should cover at least two hours on each side of this time. When life is at stake in the crisis of acute disease, nurses are instructed to begin special stimulation at midnight and to continue it until six in the morning, in the hope that flashing energies may be sustained through this period of supreme depression.

Just As Good as Ever, Too.

An old physician of the last generation was noted for his brusque manner and old-fashioned methods. One time a lady called him in to treat her baby who was slightly ailing. The doctor prescribed castor oil.
"But, doctor," protested the young mother, "castor oil is such an old-fashioned remedy."
"Madam," replied the doctor, "babies are old-fashioned things."

LEAGUE LEADERS PLAY SHEARWATER TODAY

Important Game in Victoria District League Series at Oak Bay

Three games are on the card for this afternoon in the Victoria District Football League, but chief interest centres in the big game at Oak Bay in which the James Bay Athletic Association meets the eleven from H.M.S. Shearwater. The Bays won their previous engagement by three goals to one, but since then the game has been protested and is even now in doubt, the protest coming up for discussion at a meeting of the league to be held this evening at the Y.M.C.A. Under the circumstances the game today will have a big bearing on the championship. Both teams have been strengthened for the occasion and they should put up a very even contest. No matter who wins it will be well worth the long trip to watch as the teams playing are easily the best in the league.

At Work Point barracks the Garrison and Esquimalt will fight it out, and on the recent form of the soldiers it would not be much of a surprise if they should win out. At Beacon Hill the Fifth Regiment and Y.M.C.A. will clash. They played a tie game when they last met and should put up another very even game, though the Y.M.C.A. ought to win. This is the way the teams have been announced for this afternoon:

HOCKEY GAME TODAY

High School and South Park Will Come Together

The fourth match for the Colonist hockey cup will be played at Oak Bay this morning, when the girls from the High school will clash with the South Park exponents. Among the hockey players considerable interest is being taken in this match, as a win for South Park, will practically give them the championship, which means that the cup will then remain with South Park. The trophy has now been won twice by South Park, and the girls from this school are anxious to maintain their past record and secure the cup to adorn the trophy locker at the school. At present they are in the lead, with North Ward following close behind. High school has already met the leaders in the race for the championship and managed to make a draw. The North Ward went down before the leaders, and in turn defeated the High school. The High school is out of the running, but by winning today, they may upset the aspirations of South Park, and a contested game is anticipated. The South Park team will be as follows: Backs, Ella Cullin (captain), Grace Cameron and Katie Jackson; half backs, Mildred Van Gleson, Katie Pottinger and Hazel Jagers. Forwards, Ethel Casey, Henrietta Young, Beatrice Heyland, Edna Langley and Emily Hall.

BEWARE OF CONSTIPATION

HARVARD TO TRY AGAIN

Oarsmen Want Another Match With Cambridge
New York, Nov. 15.—Word comes from Cambridge university, England, that Harvard wants a return rowing match with the Cantabs, after the Olympic games next year. It is not stated where the Americans want the race, but it is inferred that it will be on the Thames at Henley. After the race last year some talk that Cambridge should come to America for the next race and the theory was partly accepted until there was a statement from the Englishmen that they would only cross the Atlantic after the Americans showed them their stern. In other words, Harvard will have to keep going over until she wins and then Cambridge will come over here.

It is not definitely stated whether Harvard has sent a challenge, but the race has been a topic of much discussion by Englishmen recently. The Cambridge gossip it can be gathered that the Light Blues are willing for another tussle with Harvard and at this rate the race is now almost assured.

GREAT STADIUM WILL SEAT 70,000 PEOPLE

It Will Contain a Race Track of Three Laps to the Mile

The great stadium at Shepherd's Bush, in London, England, for the Olympic games next year, will be capable of holding 70,000 spectators. It will be oval in shape, with seats all the way round, and a passage beneath. It will be a thousand feet long and 700 feet across. The first track, the cycling track, will be banked and thirty-five feet wide, of two and three-quarter laps to the mile, and inside that will be the running track, twenty-five feet wide and three laps to the mile.

Further in, along the centre of one side and immediately opposite the lorry box and the other special enclosures, will be a swimming tank, 100 metres in length, three feet six inches deep at the shallow end, and about forty feet deep in the centre, where the diving competitions will take place. The remainder of the inside is turf, about 700 feet by 300 feet, and this will be used for the lawn tennis and numerous other contests.

The programme for next year's games has only been provisionally fixed, for each nation is at present considering the conditional form. The athletic events, however, include flat racing and the famous Marathon race for twenty-five miles, hurdle racing, walking, jumping, running high jump, pole jump, and pole jump, throwing the hammer, putting the shot, tug-of-war, throwing the discus (Greek style and Greek style), and hurling the javelin, cycling, archery, fencing, golf, gymnastics, football, hockey, lacrosse, lawn tennis (men's singles, men's doubles and ladies' doubles), swimming, diving, wrestling (catch-as-catch-can).

In addition to these, at next year's National Rifle Association meeting at Bisley, a number of shooting competitions with the Service rifle for teams of six will take place, and there will also be individual competitions for revolver and pistol shooting, running deer shooting and clay-bird shooting. At the conclusion of the regatta week at Henley the course will be lengthened, and contests for eights, fours, pairs and single sculls will be held. Motor races will take place at the new track at Brooklands, and races for motor boats in Southampton water.

The yachting races will be held in the Solent, the polo matches at Hurlingham, skating competitions at one of the London rinks, and tennis and tennis matches at Queen's Club.

The entries from each country will be limited in number for the various events—twelve will be allowed for most of the athletic competitions—and they will be made by the associations governing sports in each country. They will be strictly limited to amateurs. In most of the countries of the civilized world there are now Olympic committees being formed.

While the coveted prizes of the ancient games were crowns of olives and branches of palms, in the modern equivalent medals of gold, silver and bronze will be awarded, together with certificates, besides the special challenge cups which will be held by the winners until the Olympic games of 1912.

The International Sports, Pastimes and Travel Exhibition will be held in connection with the games on the ground floor beneath the stand all the way around the tracks. There will be no less than 50,000 square feet available for exhibits, the whole space being easily reached either from without or from the stand. When the spectators' sympathies are not especially aroused by the competitions then being decided in the arena he can descend to the ground floor and make a tour of some of the exhibits. Everything possible will be done to make them thoroughly representative, and there is little doubt that the exhibition will be the most complete gathering of international articles used in the pursuit of every conceivable kind of game or sport that has ever been got together.

Although the Olympic games themselves will only extend over a limited period, the exhibition will remain open for six months.

VICTORIA OWNER IS WINNER AT VANCOUVER

George Florence Owner of Covesea Kennels, Lands
Challenge Cup

Geo. Florence, owner of the Covesea Kennels of this city, returned from Vancouver last evening where he had been attending the annual bench show of the B. C. Fox terrier club, and with him he brought several valuable prizes which were won by his entries. In all he had four entries and with these he captured 1st in open dogs; 2nd open dogs and winners dogs; 3rd in novice bitches; 3rd in limit bitches; 3rd in open bitches, 1st Veterans class and the challenge cup for the best smooth haired fox terrier dog in the show.

The principal winnings were made by Covesea Speedy, which has won more first prizes than any other dog in British Columbia and is now an accredited double champion, having won championships in both the United States and British Columbia. Speedy was bred in Seattle, his father being the celebrated English champion Daddy, who won the championship of England, three years in succession. Daddy was imported to San Francisco by the proprietor of the Windy Kennels of that city, his breeder, Judge Raper, considering him the best terrier ever produced in England. Since his arrival on the Coast, he has been entered in exhibitions against Speedy, and has suffered defeat at his hands, on three different occasions with three different judges. He was obtained by Mr. Florence, from J. Morgan, the owner of the Windy Kennels of Seattle, and since he has been owned in this city he has never met with defeat.

Considerable interest was taken in the exhibition in Vancouver, in view of the fact that Mr. Bruce of that city had imported Leander Club from England for the express purpose of beating Speedy, but the best he could get was highly commended, this dog being also beaten by another of Mr. Florence's entries, Cove Revelry. Revelry, like his kennel mate, has also taken many prizes and is well liked by many fanciers. In the judging ring, however, Speedy makes a much better appearance and always manages to catch the judge's eye.

Mr. Florence is very proud of his prize winners and so confident that he has the best dog in British Columbia, that he is willing to show Speedy against any other dog, before any three judges appointed by the Canadian Kennel club. In addition to Speedy and Revelry, Mr. Florence showed Covesea Countess, Covesea Lady, both of which were among the prize winners.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. For a lively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds! It strengthens! It offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

NEW ORIENTAL STEAMSHIP LINE

Alfred Holt & Co. Orders Two Passenger and Freight Steamers

WILL RUN TO HONGKONG

Blue Funnel Steamship Owners to Enter Trans-Pacific Trade

The Blue Funnel line is to enter the passenger and freight carrying trade on the Pacific with a direct line from Tacoma to Hongkong, via Victoria and Yokohama and the usual ports of call in the Far East, in addition to the round-the-world service, which has been maintained monthly from Liverpool and across the Pacific. Alfred Holt & Co., of Liverpool, the firm which operates the Blue Funnel and White Funnel steamers of the Ocean Steamship Company and China Mutual line, with 54 large steam freighters, have contracted with Workman, Clark & Co., of Belfast, for the construction of two passenger and cargo steamers, about 440 feet in length, 52 feet beam, and 35 feet in depth, with triple expansion engines capable of steaming 12 knots an hour. They will carry about 10,000 tons of deadweight cargo and will cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars each. These vessels, according to report, are intended for the trans-Pacific trade, and a third steamer will shortly be built.

The building of the two passenger and cargo steamers indicates the first departure of the big British steamship firm from cargo-carrying alone, other than the carriage of steerage passengers through the Red Sea, mostly between Europe, Australia, and Japan. The new vessels will be built for the round-the-world fleet.

SEALER DROWNED FROM THE SCHOONER OTTO

During Westerly Gale W. M. Daniels Was Shaken From Rail—Grasped Logline, But It Broke

Running before a strong westerly gale on Oct. 30, at 10:30 p.m., in 48.28 north, 131.24 west, the sealing schooner Otto, Capt. J. Searle, which returned yesterday from Bering sea with 375 sealskins, lost one of her crew, William M. Daniels, 34 years of age, whose parents live at 28 Eleanor street, Carleton, North Wales, by drowning. The Otto, which is the last of the fleet to arrive, came into port yesterday morning with her flag at half mast in consequence of the accident. Capt. Searle was below in his bunk when he heard the cry "man overboard" above the twanging of the rigging vibrating in the heavy wind and the roar of the heavy sea then running. Daniels, an able seaman, who was making his second trip on the schooner, had been sitting on the lee (starboard) rail, with his feet clear of the deck, when the schooner running under a foresail only at a speed of 8 or 8½ knots an hour lurched suddenly and jerked him into the sea. A lifebuoy was quickly thrown, and as Capt. Searle rushed on deck and to the wheel to bring the schooner about he shouted to heave another.

The night was very dark, and the sea a high one, lashed by the gale. The chances of rescue were slim. A boat could not have lived, and to lower one in the faint hope of rescuing the unfortunate man would have been to throw away several lives. The Otto could not be seen, but a sudden tautening of the log line dragging astern showed that he had clutched that and was clinging to it. It seemed that he would be saved, but the line snapped and with a final shriek the sealer was swept away and nothing more heard of him. The log line when brought in showed that it had presumably parted in his hands.

The schooner was brought around and with everything let go, was steered across her wake, but nothing more was seen or heard of Daniels and, when hope was abandoned, the schooner stood on her course again. Next day a terrible storm was encountered. The wind blew with hurricane force from the southeast and veered to the southwest, and the schooner being in the centre of a revolving storm, was lashed from beam to beam. The glass fell to 28.25, an extremely low barometer, and raised but an inch in an hour and a half. The Otto weathered the storm, however, without injury.

The Otto left Bering sea Oct. 21, and there were still Japanese schooners hunting in the preserves which by the

TOWING COTTAGE CITY

William Jolliffe Picked up Disabled Liner at Bella Bella and Brought Her South

The big salvage tug William Jolliffe, called the "Lucky Jolliffe" by all who know her when she ran out of the Mersey is keeping up her reputation. She went north less than two weeks ago with two buoys for Queen Charlotte Islands, which were placed at Ikeda bay and Skidegate bar returned south yesterday, bringing the disabled steamer Cottage City of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company from Bella Bella. The William Jolliffe called at Departure bay yesterday morning, where Capt. Stratford reported to his owners, and was ordered to take the disabled Alaska liner to Seattle.

The William Jolliffe was passing Bella Bella when the Cottage City, which was awaiting a tug, blew three blasts. Capt. Stratford thought this a salute, and after replying, proceeded. Then he saw the Cottage City's master waving wildly, and put back. Arrangements were made for a tow south, and the Jolliffe, which is under charter to the marine department, with a clause in the charter that the vessel may engage in salvage work at any time if required, brought the Cottage City south.

The Cottage City was bound south when she lost her propeller and was towed to Bella Bella by the steamer Dirigo. The steamer City of Seattle called later, and took off the passengers, who reached Seattle Thursday.

ENQUIRY INTO COLLISION BETWEEN C.P.R. STEAMERS

Commission Received by Mr. Justice Martin and Investigation Will Probably Begin Tuesday

The commission appointing Mr. Justice Martin to hold the inquiry concerning the collision between the steamers Charmer and Tartar, which occurred during heavy fog off the Sandheads light October 17, has been received, and yesterday the commissioner appointed Justin Gilbert, stenographer of the court, and W. P. Marchant, clerk. Arrangements will be made to hold the enquiry at the law courts in this city at the earliest date convenient to all parties, probably on Tuesday next. As the steamer Tartar will be ready to leave the dry dock on Sunday, and will be ready to resume her voyage by Tuesday it is probable that some of the necessary witnesses may be delayed.

Two marine assessors will be appointed to sit with the commissioner at the enquiry.

The Alaska packers' steamer Nushagak, left San Francisco on Thursday afternoon for Karluk to bring down the bark Servia's shipwrecked crew and the cannery hands who are stranded up North through the salmon packers' wreck.

INDRAVELLI WAITING ESQUIMALT DRY DOCK

Officers of the Steamer Were Poorly Informed of Local Conditions

The steamer Indravelli is awaiting an opportunity to enter the dry dock at Esquimalt, but cannot secure entrance for at least a week. The steamer Kazemba is expected shortly from Vancouver and she will follow the Tartar, which will probably leave the dock tomorrow. The Kazemba is to be surveyed, tenders called and the damage inflicted by striking a boulder near Siwash rock, Vancouver, is to be repaired. Many visitors went to Esquimalt yesterday to see the Indravelli. The big wrecking pumps of the B. C. Salvage company are easily keeping the water down. The hull and frames forward for at least forty feet are damaged where the rocks pressed up the flat bottom, and some of the forward tanks have been started, while the stem and bow for six or eight feet will have to be renewed. The full extent of the damage will not be shown until the steamer is docked.

The stem was pressed close against the high cliff of Kellett bluff. Like many of the steamship accidents in British Columbia waters lack of information and out-of-date sailing directions provided for vessels had a share in the cause of the accident, while the strong set toward Kellett bluff also contributed. The Indravelli came from Shimonoseki, Japan, and the sailing directions with which the vessel was provided gave no indication that a quarantine was necessary, or that Vancouver pilots could be secured at Victoria, where one was awaiting the steamer. The captain's idea was that at the limits at Point Atkinson a pilot cutter would be cruising about. Victoria pilots were at William Head also awaiting the steamer, but she stood well clear toward the United States side of the straits and after getting departure from Discovery light stood up Haro straits in the fog, the current setting her toward Kellett bluff. Instead of going at full speed the vessel was making about six knots, sufficient to bash in the bow considerably when the moving ship met the immovable rock.

Fifty yards was about all that was required to clear the dangerous bluff, for the water is deep almost to the face of the cliff, but the Indravelli was, unfortunately, too far to the United States side of the boundary. The fog, it seems, hung heavier over the land than to seaward, and looking to seaward greater space showed clearer than where the pall hung over the cliff, and it was not until the vessel was high on the rock that Capt. Callington knew the danger. Then it was too late. The crash followed very quickly, and the steamer remained fast, until, after a most creditable salvage work, the B. C. Salvage company's steamer Salvor, floated the vessel and brought her to Esquimalt.

PRESIDENT ARRIVES

Was Signalled by Wireless Operators, Who Were Testing Equipment

The steamer President, which arrived last night from San Francisco with a small complement of passengers, reported having received wireless signals from Victoria when off the entrance to the Straits this morning. Cecil Doure, superintendent of wireless telegraph stations, while engaged in testing the apparatus being installed at Shotbolt's hill, where E. J. Haughton, formerly of the C. P. R. telegraph office, has been appointed superintendent, "found" the steamer off the coast, but no messages were exchanged. The local station is practically ready, and is expected to begin service shortly. Mr. Doure goes to Vancouver today to install the apparatus at Point Grey, and it is expected that the five

BEGIN WHALE HUNTING

The steam whaler Orion left the new whaling station at Page's lagoon yesterday to hunt whales for the first time in the Gulf of Georgia. The Orion will be continued all winter in these waters, and with the St. Lawrence will return to the west coast stations in the spring. The St. Lawrence, which has been used to tow scows of coal between the mines and station, will probably return to port shortly to tie up for the winter.

R. P. RITHE'S REPORT

Grain Freight Market is Quiet—Moderate Demand for Lumber Carriers

The monthly freight and shipping report of R. P. Rithet & company for October, just issued, says: The month closes with the grain freight rather quiet. All the available spot vessels have been taken up, and as exporters are fairly well supplied with tonnage for future business, chartering has slackened somewhat. A moderate demand prevails for lumber carriers, freights being well maintained, with an increase in the figures for Australia.

We quote freights as follows: Grain—San Francisco to Cork, 25s.; Portland to Cork, 32s. 6d. to 33s. 9d.; Tacoma and Seattle to Cork, 32s. 6d. to 33s. 9d. Lumber—British Columbia or Puget Sound to: Sydney, 30s.; Melbourne or Adelaide, 35s. to 37s. 6d.; Port Pirie, 35s. to 37s. 6d.; Fremantle, 35s. to 40s.; Shanghai, 35s. to 36s. 3d. (steamers); direct Nitrate Port, 46s. 3d. to 50s.; Taku, 35s. to 36s. 3d.; West Coast, S. A., 47s. 6d. to 50s.; South Africa, 57s. 6d. to 60s.; U. K. or Continent, 55s. to 60s.

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady who cures her husband of His Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save her Home.

A PATHETIC LETTER

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband, but I was only too true, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnered me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his wife's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming. I took a bottle of the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I saw him in his usual happy mood. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that had set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive loving husband, comfort and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whiskey was vile stuff and he was taking a little to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from promises before. He never has and I am writing you this letter to tell you how much I am, I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

STOCKS SOLD DOWN UNDER LIQUIDATION

Pressure Causes Some Securities to Find New Low Price Level

New York, Nov. 15.—The stock market took on an aspect of severe depression again today, and sold down for some stocks to new low levels for the year. The liquidation was not large in volume, but it was apparently urgent, and there was no corresponding demand to absorb it. The bear party was accused, also, with some bitterness, of manipulating prices to accelerate the decline, and take a profit from the losses of the sellers. It was common supposition that the process going on was what the market parlance calls "clearing up" of wreckage, meaning the selling out of accounts that had been carried through the previous depression, and had been taken over outright from embarrassed houses by capitalists able to carry them.

New York Central was the earliest stock to be affected, responding to the published reports of the formation of the finance commission to consider the further financial needs of the company. The U. S. Steel stock continued to feel the effects of growing evidence of the reaction in that trade and this was of cumulative effect upon the whole list. Later in the day the Harriman Pacific were brought into the line of depression by the publishing of the earnings of the companies for September. The great increase in cost of materials of all kinds lies back of the whole question of causes for the present crisis, the showing of business reasons making the deduction plain that reduced consumption would be a necessary consequence of the price levels thus reported.

Opinion on the general situation was distinctly hopeful in spite of apparent gloom that overgrew the stock market. The depression was partly sentimental and associated with the tragic end of the former president of the Kluckhohn Trust company.

The premium on currency was inclined to relax, and bids were not in evidence in some quarters where the demand had made itself early in the previous operations. Demands for interior banks on their New York correspondents were met today without much alterations of terms. Statements of weekly cash movements indicated a moderate loss by the banks, owing to the continued heavy shipments to the interior, but an improved bank position is expected owing to the lack of

Car Shortage and Scarcity of Money Affect the West-ern Farmer

The present situation from the grain viewpoint is quite serious, says a Financial Post writer. The demoralization of the grain trade in the United States owing to the lack of funds in the banks resulted in a heavy decline, which has been repeated in Canada. The banks here seem to have taken fright and have for the time being stopped giving money to the grain merchants, who need it for purchases from the farmers. As a result feed grain in farmers' hands has dropped fifteen cents and the outlook is not pleasant.

Last week the marketing of grain has been heavy. Threshing has progressed well in Saskatchewan and in Manitoba it is getting pretty well completed. In the latter province farmers are hard at work plowing taking advantage of the warm days to prepare their land for next season's crop. As explained last week, it is of great importance that as much as possible should be prepared, and every day of good weather now means an easier time for the farmer next spring.

There has been some delay in the forwarding of the cars loaded with grain to the lake front. The Canadian Pacific had several of their engines at work hauling gravel for the double-tracking which should have been available for taking care of the grain cars when they arrived at the Port William yards. This caused the cars to accumulate in great numbers and made the deliveries to the terminal elevators small. In other words, a large quantity of grain was tied up between Winnipeg and Port William. Towards the end of last week, however, this was rectified and the railways are postponing the work on the double track and will give their whole attention to the grain, at any rate till the close of navigation. The cars are now being unloaded as fast as they arrive. There has also been a small blockade in certain sections owing to the C. P. R. not supplying empty cars to local. At the beginning of the wheat movement empties were put in on every siding ready for loading, but where the crop was delayed the railway took them away, with the result that when the movement did start at those points the cars were not there.

The Soo line, from North Portal to Moose Jaw, was certainly hindered through lack of cars. At certain points the elevators have all been full and have been unable to secure cars.

Crop Must Be Quickly Moved.

The Winnipeg Board of Trade has written a strong letter to the C. P. R. urging the necessity of moving the crop as fast as possible.

There are two reasons, especially, this year why an extra effort should be made. The first is the quality and character of the grain in the Saskatchewan. Being mostly low grade, it is far more likely to go out of condition than in years when the crop is of a higher grade. Therefore, it is necessary that this low-grade and feed wheat should be shipped out at once and that none of it shall be held over till the spring, when it would become heated and worthless. The second reason is the state of the money market and the anxious position of the banks and wholesale merchants. They are both waiting for the money which the crop will bring when sold for export to Europe, and it would be an iniquitous thing if the whole country was kept waiting all this year for a proper supply of cars. It is not as if prices were unsatisfactory. On the contrary, they are particularly good, and there probably never was a time when the lower grades of wheat were selling at such high prices. It must be admitted, in defense of the railway, that even where there has been a good car supply the farmers have not been in a great hurry to sell. There has been a tendency to store their wheat instead of selling it, and a number of them have shipped their crop to Port William, and have not disposed of it yet. This is not as it should be. Seeing that the whole country is in debt starting from the farmer, there is no question he should be forced to sell. The banks this year are refusing to advance money to farmers on grain, saying that if they want money they should sell and not hold the view of holding. The big elevators and grain companies also are refusing to lend on storage tickets. In other years they have been accustomed to advance money to farmers who have grain stored in their elevators, but this year they are refusing to do this. In fact, they are finding it difficult enough to get money from the banks to buy wheat, and are not likely to lock their funds up in advances on stored wheat. In these ways the farmers are being urged on all sides to sell and if the C. P. R. furnish a good supply of cars the next month will see an exceptionally heavy movement, which will help to relieve the money stringency.

Grain Credits Difficult.

There has been an uneasy feeling in financial circles, due to the state of affairs in New York. It is not expected that Canada will be affected, but still the banks do not like to increase their loans, seeing that conditions in the States are so bad. Lines of credit to buy grain have been far harder to get this year than usual, and bankers are now telling the grain companies that they will not be able to finance them to nearly the same extent. There was a rumor during the week that Minneapolis firms were no longer able to get money with which to buy grain in Minnesota and Dakota, and people wonder whether it would get as bad in Winnipeg before the end of the year.

How can the crop be marketed if the elevator companies could not get money with which to buy? If the crop could not be marketed it will mean the financial stringency would not be relieved. The banks realize this, and have made great efforts to provide the necessary funds. There may have been a curtailment in the credit of some small speculative accounts, but the larger firms who are known to do a legitimate business in buying from the farmer and selling to exporters have not been handicapped by lack of money.

Weekly Report on Bank Clearings—Cold Weather in East Stimulates Winter Goods Trade

New York, Nov. 15.—Bradstreet's reports the following bank clearings for the week ending November 14:

Montreal, $32,625,000, decrease 5.9 per cent; Winnipeg, $14,897,000, increase 4.2 per cent; Vancouver, $3,945,000; Quebec, $2,657,000, increase 16.3 per cent; Hamilton, $1,692,000, increase 10.5; London, Ont., $1,266,000, increase 5.7; Calgary, $1,200,000, Toronto, $25,276,000, decrease 15.5 per cent; Ottawa, $2,299,000, increase 10.6 per cent; Halifax, $2,072,000, increase 16.9 per cent; St. John, N. S., $1,552,000, increase 17.6 per cent; Victoria, $1,187,000, increase 3.4 per cent; Edmonton, $914,000.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Canadian trade advances are generally good, owing to the fact that cold weather has stimulated retail trade in heavy winter goods, and the feeling is that a good winter trade will be done. Shipments of goods to the country by water have been large. Canadian failures this week number 40, as against 34 last week, and 31 in this week a year ago.

A Rare Opportunity

If you are looking for a farm, we have for sale 150 acres ten miles from town and one and a half miles from the railway; all good land, with thirty acres cleared and under cultivation. The uncleared portion is the finest kind of soil and is heavily timbered. It is estimated there are 8,000 cords of wood on the property, and same can be shipped by scow, as the property is only a quarter of a mile from salt water, with a right of way. As a comparison of values we might point out that the cheapest land in the surrounding district is $100.00 per acre, uncleared, but we are instructed by the owner of this property to sell at $40.00 per acre, as he is closing out all his business before leaving the city.

This land as it stands today cost the owner $12,000.

It is the best buy on the Saanich Peninsula, and whoever buys it can make 50 per cent on their deal and then be $40.00 per acre below prices asked.

Pain in the Back? That's Kidney Trouble.

Backache is the first and surest sign of kidney trouble. Pain is nature's danger signal that something is wrong. Pain in the back is the "red light" for the kidneys. And not one person in ten puts the blame where it belongs—on the kidneys. It is always "a touch of Rheumatism"—or "I must have strained my back"—or "I caught cold." People seldom realize how very important it is that the kidneys be kept well and strong.

Pills have reached the kidneys and bladder—and that they are healing and curing these organs.
You not only SEE that—you FEEL that they are doing you good.

Heed nature's warning. Take Gin Pills NOW—stop the pain—and cure yourself of Kidney Trouble. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. Write for free sample.

Violent Expulsion of Air Known as Coughing

At this season of the year, when people are especially subject to coughs,
it isn't out of place to know just what it is that causes one to cough, and the action of a cough on the organs involved.

The violent expulsion of air from the lungs, through the mouth, the result of an irritation in the air passages, is what is commonly known as coughing.
This in turn irritates the lungs and renders them sore, weakening their natural power of resistance to attack.
Several diseases, some of which are often fatal, usually originate in this common ailment.

To stop a cough the following mixture has been found most effective.
Take a half ounce Virgin Oil of Pine,
two ounces of glycerine and a half pint of good whisky. Mix thoroughly and use in teaspoonful doses every four hours. Five ounces of tincture Cinchona compound can be used in place of the whisky with the same effect.

The ingredients are inexpensive and can be purchased without trouble at any good drug store. To avoid substitution of some inferior pine product for the Virgin Oil of Pine, it is better to purchase each separately and mix them at home.

The genuine Virgin Oil of Pine is put up for dispensing, only in 1-2 ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case with an engraved wrapper showing plainly the name—Virgin Oil of Pine, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont. Be sure to get the genuine, as the oil sold in bulk and cheap imitations put out to resemble Virgin Oil of Pine in name and style of package are ineffective, being largely composed of a distillation of pine needles, or leaves, instead of from the pine tree proper.

These pine needle oils are not intended for internal use, and when taken internally usually cause nausea.
Their use is mainly confined to the manufacture of soap and similar purposes.
